PREFACE

THIS is the twentieth catalogue issued by the Fraternity since it was founded one hundred and seventeen years ago. It contains the names of 22,883 initiates (of whom 8,505 are deceased) as of October, 1948.

The Catalogue of 1915 marked a new era in the development of our publications to a maximum of usefulness. The 1922, 1928, 1936, and 1941 editions were published with still further improvements. A special feature of the current edition is the biographical sketch of the Founder prepared by Dr. Claude M. Fuess, Am. '05. This work is based on all available source material and represents extensive research into a subject in which all members of the Fraternity are naturally interested. We are indebted to Brother Fuess for this scholarly, thorough contribution.

In this catalogue the chapter rolls appear in alphabetical order, in the interest of simplicity and standardization. The history of each Chapter is brought up to date and appears opposite a picture of the chapter house. The history of the Fraternity includes an account of the duties of the Traveling Secretary and the purpose and activities of the Executive Council.

In addition to the Chapter and Class listing, the members are listed alphabetically and geographically.

The Fraternity asks the active cooperation of all members of Alpha Delta Phi in maintaining the card index from which this catalogue was compiled, the accuracy of which was attained through efficient assistance in the Fraternity office. Notices of deaths and changes or misstatements of address should be sent to the Alpha Delta Phi, 347 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y.

We are deeply grateful to the many members who have assisted in the publication of this volume.

SAMUEL EELLS

SAMUEL EELLS

1810-1842

By CLAUDE M. FUESS, Amherst, 1905

SAMUEL EELLS, the inspired Hamilton College graduate who founded Alpha Delta Phi, wrote its Covenant and determined its ideals, must always be a source of interest to the later brothers. We should like to have detailed information as to how he lived, what books he preferred, what daily routine he followed, how his motives and ambitions developed, indeed all that stirred in his restless brain during the tumultuous heyday of Jacksonian Democracy. Unfortunately the materials for an intimate biography are not extensive. A few of his letters and formal addresses throw light on his unusual character. He left behind a brief account of the circumstances leading to the inception of the Fraternity. A memorial volume of the current conventional type was edited by his brother, James, in 1873, more than thirty years after his death. The only existing portrait, while attractive enough, has little distinctive individuality; and we lack descriptions of him by classmates and friends.

In an unpublished account of his family genealogy, Eells imagines some future descendant perusing his memorandum and then placing his hand thoughtfully on his brow and wondering what manner of man was this Samuel Eells who thus meditated and wrote in the early nineteenth century, who practiced law in Cincinnati and was graduated at Hamilton College. Although I am not his kinsman, this is precisely what I am trying to do in this sketch of the Founder. The vague and undiscriminating eulogies left by his contemporaries offer no help in recreating a flesh-and-blood figure. When we are told that, as a child, he showed no tendency towards "vicious habits," or that, as a collegian, "he had not an enemy among his fellow students," or that, as an adult, "he never expressed a thought incompletely," we long for anecdotes which, however trivial, would transform this colorless paragon into the very human personality that he must have been. We do, however, possess the evidence which proves him to have been the tragic victim of a dynamic, turbulent mind in a feeble body, endowed with exceptional talent which, except in the founding of Alpha Delta Phi, never came to full fruition. Only the Fraternity, established when he was but twenty-two years old, has endured through more than a century of rapidly evolving American society as the continuing symbol of his greatness.

In the document already mentioned, Eells says of his forebears, "I believe there are few families in this country who can trace their genealogy through so many links of the ascending chain and find cause to congratulate themselves on being descendants of a nobler or better ancestry." Of supreme importance in Eells's development was his Puritan inheritance from his earliest colonial ancestor, John Eells, through an almost unbroken line of Congregational clergymen—men whom he calls "pious and educated progenitors." In nearly every paragraph Samuel wrote or spoke was a strong, sincere emphasis on morality and religion. His father, the missionary pastor of a church in Westmoreland, then a frontier hamlet in the Mohawk Valley, often took long and lonely horseback journeys through the wilderness, laboring for the Western Educational Society. Samuel, the second son in a family of five boys and one girl who grew to maturity, was born on May 18, 1810, and brought up in an atmosphere of simple culture and piety, like that in The Vicar of Wakefield. His education, begun at his mother's knee with the Bible as a textbook, was animated by seriousness of purpose. This seriousness lasted all his life.

Even as a youngster Samuel was not physically robust, and the grim symptoms of pulmonary tuberculosis—then known as consumption—showed themselves very early. When he was barely fifteen, confinement to his studies broke down his health; and his observant father placed him during the warm summer months on a farm so that he could get fresh air and exercise. By 1826, he had recovered sufficiently to attend Clinton Academy, probably the best school in Oneida County, where he displayed a precocious ability in writing and public speaking and was prepared acceptably for Hamilton College. Once again, however, his vitality was unequal to the nervous strain, and he was obliged to leave almost immediately. Still only a boy, he was ill and without money. In those days physicians were not agreed on the proper therapy for tuberculosis, but Eells decided for himself that his only hope lay in an outdoor existence. A sea voyage seemed to offer what he instinctively wanted. Consequently, with no companion and almost no financial resources, he set out on foot for New Haven, carrying his bag over his shoulders.

For almost a year the youth spent most of his time on sailing vessels, not in a luxurious passenger's cabin but as a hard-working seaman. Gradually his vigor and resistance returned, and he even held his own with the tough crew of a fishing vessel off the Newfoundland Banks. Reinvigorated and ambitious, he returned to Westmoreland in November, 1828, and immediately matriculated at Hamilton as a Freshman, being certainly the most mature and experienced member of his class. The progress of his ailment had been temporarily retarded, and he was ready for the arduous study which always brought him happiness.

Samuel Eells's father had been one of the committee of three who organized and opened Hamilton College in 1812, secured its charter from the State of New York, and formulated its curriculum and general policies. For this reason, as well as because of its convenient location not far from Westmoreland, it was natural that Samuel should go there. In 1828, however, the young and small college was apparently moribund. The President was at odds with the Trustees, who had rashly spent on buildings the income and capital which should have been appropriated for salaries. The disgruntled faculty were, at the same moment, engaged in a controversy with the Trustees over a matter of undergraduate discipline. In 1829, ten Trustees had resigned in disgust, the faculty consisted only of the President and one Professor, and the student body had shrunk to nine. It did not seem likely that the institution could keep from disintegrating completely.

No classes were graduated in 1829 or 1830, but the few undergraduates were loyal, new teachers were secured, and by Eells's Junior year a respectable number of students were enrolled. With his prestige and intelligence he was quickly recognized as a leader; and his skill in guiding others was soon demonstrated in a remarkable way. It was a period when literary societies of an exclusive and secret nature were being formed in American colleges. The origins of this movement are not easy to trace, partly because the records are not available and partly because the members could not disclose some of the "mysteries"; but Baird's Manual of American College Fraternities presents the bare facts. Eells himself was no innovator. Kappa Alpha, founded at Union College in the autumn of 1825, is "the oldest secret brotherhood of a social and literary character which has had a continuous existence in American colleges," and is called by Baird "the parent of the present vast system of American college fraternities." It was followed closely at Union by two rivals—Sigma Phi (March 4, 1827) and Delta Phi (November 18, 1827). Baird suggests that the model for all three was Phi Beta Kappa, established on December 5, 1776, at the College of William and Mary, in Williamsburg, Virginia. Originally Phi Beta Kappa, like the Masonic Order, was esoteric, with a badge, a grip, an oath of fidelity, a ritual, and an idealistic and spiritual purpose; but neither Baird nor anybody else has explained how these features happened to develop at Williamsburg in the midst of the Revolutionary War. At any rate, Phi Beta Kappa soon changed to an honorary scholarship society, as it is today; while the three later fraternities at Union—the so-called "Union Triad"—furnished the pattern for the unique American college fraternity system as it exists in the twentieth century.

In his own account of what happened, Eells declared that, when he arrived on the Hamilton campus, he found there two literary societies—the Phoenix and the Philopeuthian—the latter of which he rather reluctantly joined; but discovering these rival groups indulged in recruiting tactics little short of unscrupulous, he was led by his moral sense to consider the creation of a new fraternity which would, as a positive policy, disavow what he regarded as jealous and unsavory competition. In the autumn of 1830, while these ideas were germinating in his fertile mind, a deputation from the Union Chapter of Kappa Alpha visited Hamilton with the intention, frankly disclosed, of establishing there a new chapter of their fraternity. Eells, who had his own theories and desires, and who was also not without the instincts of a politician, defeated these alien plans, and then proposed to selected members of both Phoenix and Philopeuthian that they found a new society, based on the loftiest of intellectual and moral ideals—a society which, within a limited community and membership, would have some of the aspects and influence of a religion.

The first meeting of this select group, held on a winter's evening in Eells's room, Number 15, Back Middle, Kirkland Hall, was attended by five students. Three of them were Seniors: Eells himself; Lorenzo Latham, who died in 1860, in New Orleans; and John C. Underwood, who died in 1873, in Richmond, Virginia. The two Juniors were Oliver Andrew Morse, who died in 1870, in New York City, and Henry Lemuel Storrs, of a famous clerical family, who later became a distinguished clergyman and died prematurely, in 1852, in Yonkers, New York. Most of the actual planning was evidently carried through by Eells, who had an orderly as well as an imaginative mind. According to his own testimony, he drew up the Constitution, and he and Latham together devised the emblems and the symbols. Later in the year 1832 other members were added, and the mother chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was thus in full operation at the time of Eells's graduation.

As if endowed with some prophetic quality, Samuel Eells, in a statement prepared some years later, left behind him his conception of what Alpha Delta Phi was intended to be and do. It comes down to us as an authentic expression of the Founder's design:

"In the first place, the new association must differ from others in all points necessary to the exclusion of that jealousy and angry competition which I have always felt to be the bane of college life. In the second place, it must be built on a more comprehensive scale than other societies, in regard to its intellectual proportions, providing for every variety of taste and talent and embracing every department of literature and science. In the third place, it must be national and universal in all its adaptations, so as not merely to cultivate a taste for literature or furnish the mind with knowledge; but with a true philosophical spirit looking to the entire man, so as to develop his whole being—moral, social, and intellectual. In the fourth place, it must be made a living, growing, self-perpetuating institution, which can be done only by stamping its whole character and arrangements with a great and manifest superiority to other societies, and by attaching its members to it, by an indissoluble bond of union and binding them to real and personal interest in its welfare. Finally, its actual, visible organization must be deferred till the general plan can be thoroughly matured, every preliminary settled, every influence secured, that may enable the enterprise to command assurance of success."

Obviously this is the conception of a thoughtful, far-sighted mind, insistent on sketching the design before raising the structure. All the essential preliminaries were pondered and settled before that crucial first meeting was held. The intellectual basis was, of course, unmistakable. Members were to associate with one another because of a need for extending their knowledge and sharpening their wits. The whole fraternity movement in its early stages was in part an attempt by scholarly young men to provide for themselves the acquaintance with English literature which college courses did not then supply. It was also affected by the intense interest in debating and public speaking aroused by the Revolutionary orators and later by the "God-like Dan'l" Webster himself. Judging by Samuel Eells's own oratorical efforts, he must have admired and tried to imitate Webster, whose masterly addresses at Plymouth and Bunker Hill were already being declaimed by collegiate prize-seekers and whose Reply to Hayne was delivered while Eells was still an undergraduate. The literary background of Alpha Delta Phi was manifest and significant, wholly natural in the light of earlier experiments in undergraduate group organization. But Eells deliberately undertook to go beyond this and link the members together in their devotion to something deeper. Although he was, as we have seen, intuitively and persistently a scholar, his vibrant and comprehensive imagination transcended the narrow bounds of mere knowledge derived from books. Something of his philosophy was revealed in his Valedictory Address to his classmates—an address which, because of a prevailing epidemic of cholera, was never delivered. From this I shall quote only the passage in which he suggests that it is the duty of all of his hearers to prepare for "another and happier state of being . . . by the faithful and conscientious discharge of our duties to God and our fellow men." I am sure that the spiritual significance of the Fraternity meant much to him. He wove his own personal ideals, his religious faith, into the warp and woof of Alpha Delta Phi.

It is a pity that we cannot more clearly visualize this young Hamilton graduate, the brightest member of the Class of 1832. His portrait, painted some years later, shows him with a resolute, almost stern, expression, like some belated Cotton Mather or Jonathan Edwards. He was tall, with raven hair, high cheek bones and pointed chin, and a piercing gleam in his dark eyes—eyes which might have been those of a crusader. His contemporaries stressed his pallor and the emaciation accompanying his disease. The effect which he produced as an orator was long remembered by those who heard him. Never flippant or cynical, and seldom humorous, he was impressive because of his rich voice and his overwhelming sincerity. He could not have been painfully sanctimonious, for he owned copies of Smollett and Fielding, but he had no time or inclination for levity. Altogether he was a man to be reckoned with—a man who, but for the probability of recurring illness, was certain of a brilliant future.

Leaving behind him his Fraternity fully formed, Eells set out after Commencement in 1832 to join his father, who had moved some months before to Ohio. As he said "Good-bye!" to one of his Alpha Delta Phi brethren, he announced that he did not expect to live more than ten years longer but that he intended to crowd a maximum of achievement into that decade. As a matter of fact, his career was almost terminated before it was even started. The dreaded cholera had spread everywhere that summer, and after Eells had boarded the boat at Buffalo for Cleveland, he was attacked by the infection. The frightened passengers fled from him as soon as they discovered the situation and insisted that he should be set ashore at the first landing. Only one, less timid or more sympathetic than the others, brought him some calomel and tendered a little assistance. At Dunkirk, in spite of his protests, he was deposited on the wharf in an abandoned shed and left to his fate. Here again no Good Samaritan, not even a physician, ventured near him, but he ultimately persuaded two small boys to bring him some hot water and more medicine. There the Founder of Alpha Delta Phi lay for a week, alone, unfed, even unattended, on the verge of death. Then miraculously he rallied and proceeded to his destination. This adventure certainly did nothing to strengthen his none too sturdy constitution.

It would have been natural for Samuel to follow his ancestors into the Christian ministry, and he would have been well fitted for that calling. Instead, however, he turned to the law—perhaps in emulation of Daniel Webster—and like him also he used teaching as a crutch to support himself while he was studying. Before long, he was in Springfield, Ohio, soliciting pupils for his school. Beginning with only two children, he soon had a full classroom, doing all the administration and instruction himself. Meanwhile in his evenings and on Sundays he busied himself in the traditional fashion, reading Blackstone under the direction of a local attorney. As usual, he was alert and industrious, but he was constantly taxing his feeble body more than it could endure. Somehow the months passed, and in February, 1835, he was admitted to the Ohio Bar, turned over his now prosperous school to other hands, and hung out his shingle in Cincinnati. Although clients came only slowly, his quality was soon recognized and before the close of that year he accepted a partnership with Salmon P. Chase, later Lincoln's Secretary of the Treasury and Chief Justice of the United States. During this period, laboring with his habitual tenacity, he built up a substantial reputation in that section of Ohio.

At the close of 1837, with characteristic ambition, Eells withdrew from his firm and opened his own office, but his health was getting even more precarious and his prospects were accordingly dismal. In various ways he sought rest and diversion, but on each occasion when he returned to his desk he was unable to meet the responsibilities of his practice. His case, as he well knew, was hopeless. In sheer desperation he spent several months with his father at Amherst, Ohio; and during the winter of 1839-40 he sailed to a warmer climate in Cuba. In September, 1840, when he had given the law one more unsuccessful trial, he broke down completely and resigned himself to death. Entertaining himself by preparing a history of his family for one of his younger relatives, he ended:

"And now, my beloved kinsman, farewell till thou reachest thy home on the other side of the gulf. I will be there on the shore to meet thee! Till then, God bless thee, and—Farewell!"

This brave but pathetic manuscript is dated August 16, 1841. As he grew weaker, he was taken into the home of one of his Cincinnati friends, Seth W. Pomeroy. There on Sunday morning, March 13, 1842, he died quite peacefully. He had not yet completed his thirty-second year.

Eell's friends might well have placed upon his tombstone Hamlet's words to his father's ghost, "Rest, rest, perturbed spirit!" But he was not allowed to be quiet even in his grave. He was interred in the City Cemetery of Cincinnati, but seventeen years later the casket, for some family reason, was moved to a vault in Cleveland, Ohio. In 1929, when the new Chapter House at Hamilton was occupied, the remains were transferred to the Samuel Eells Memorial Hall, on the campus which he loved and where his best work was done.

To the Fraternity which was so largely his own creation Samuel Eells never wavered in his loyalty. Busy though he was professionally, he found time to found a second chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, in 1836, at Miami University, in Oxford, Ohio. Before his death, and in several instances through his instigation, chapters were also established in Columbia (1836), in Yale (1836), in Amherst (1836), in Brown (1836), in Harvard (1837), in Geneva (1840), and in Bowdoin (1841). Of especial interest to Eells was the formation of the Hudson Chapter, at Western Reserve College in Northern Ohio; and although he was then desperately ill, he managed to take the trip to Hudson and there, on July 1, 1841, took part in the first initiation ceremonies. By the time of his death, Alpha Delta Phi was broad and varied in its scope, with several flourishing chapters and rapidly mounting prestige. Eells held the position of National President from 1832 until 1836, when at his request he was succeeded by his friend, Charles Kilbourn, Hamilton, 1833. It is Eells's own jeweled badge which the National President, by tradition, is privileged to wear during his term of office.

After examining attentively what others wrote about him and what he said about himself, I have the impression that he was unavoidably a lonely man. We hear nothing of any love affair. Probably his awareness of his malady and an explicable unwillingness to transmit it to children would have prevented him from marrying, even if he had had any such impulse. But it is significant that in his memoir not one woman, with the exception of his mother, is mentioned; and all his close relationships seem to have been with his own sex. He had many devoted male friends, as we have seen, but he was uncomforted by a woman's sympathy or affection.

Eells's biographer emphasized three attributes of his which seemed to him worth special mention: his extraordinary personal magnetism, which all his life assured him a position of leadership among those with whom he was associated; his "ease in conversation," which made him "the center and life of any circle in which he might be"; and his "unostentatious yet avowed and controlling piety" which destined him to be "an intelligent and true servant of God." Doubtless much more could have been said about these and other characteristic traits. I should like, however, to stress particularly his accomplishments as an orator. Although he enjoyed no small success as a practising attorney, he confessed that the law was for him an unsatisfying profession. It involved, he said, "severe and incessant labor," and he was disturbed because it introduced him "to a very dark part of human nature." Such distinction as he achieved was due largely to his fondness for public speaking. Indeed had his health been more normal he might have gone far in either politics or preaching, for he loved to talk on his feet. Some addresses of his which have been preserved—one at Miami University on The Study of the Classics, one before the College of Teachers in Cincinnati, and one just before his death to the City Bible Society of the same city—make it unquestionable that he was a cogent and persuasive orator, serious in his manner, logical in his thought, and skilled in rhetorical phrasing. He had studied with profit his Demosthenes and Cicero, his Burke and Webster, and he did have opportunities to follow their methods in his pleading before the court.

Eells was President of the Biennial Convention of the Alpha Delta Phi Society held at New Haven, Connecticut, on August 15, 1839, and delivered there his best-known oration, under the title "On the Law and Means of Social Advancement." Published later in a pamphlet of sixty-nine pages, it was about 24,000 words in length and must have taken at least two and one-half hours to deliver! Very few addresses, even in that voluble period, could have tested more painfully the endurance of an audience—or the physical energy of the speaker!

Eells could, in an emergency, gather his powers for such an ordeal. Nevertheless he was seldom really well, and the most important factor in his career was his disease, from the fatiguing symptoms of which he could not escape and which made it seem as if he were trapped by circumstances. Repeatedly checked in his aspirations, often unable to carry through what he had started, he could hardly be buoyant or jocular; and it is not strange that he regarded life and its problems with accelerating sobriety. If we get the impression of a rather sombre personality, it is because he had little to make him cheerful.

Above all, Samuel Eells left on his contemporaries the impression of a Christian gentleman of heroic stature. All the evidence, interpreted through our modern eyes, indicates that his life was virtuous, not because of lack of temptation but because of positive moral decision. His career had both a philosophy and a pattern. In the rough-and-tumble of a Gloucester fisherman's daily routine he commanded respect. He battled defiantly against a debilitating disease. He competed on even terms and without complaint against his rivals in a most exacting profession, giving up the fight only when he was too much exhausted to struggle any longer. Finally he conceived and created a fraternal order which has persisted through changing generations and even now, after more than a century and a quarter, claims the devotion of its members.

HISTORICAL SKETCH

Alpha Delta Phi was founded at Hamilton College in 1832 by Samuel Eells, of the class of 1832. When he entered college in 1827 there were two literary societies at Hamilton, the Phoenix and the Philopeuthian between which a bitter and active rivalry existed. He joined the Philopeuthian to escape importunity and persecution, but the struggle for supremacy became so desperate and the means of persuasion so unscrupulous that he determined to form a new society. In a history of the foundation of the Fraternity, Mr. Eells writes:

"It was a contemplation of these and similar evils that first suggested to me the idea of establishing a society of a higher nature and more comprehensive and better principles; one that should combine all the advantages of a union for intellectual and literary purposes and at the same time maintain the integrity of youthful character and cultivate those finer feelings which the college society extinguished or enfeebled. The new association first must exclude that jealousy and angry competition and secondly must be built on a more comprehensive scale providing for every variety of taste and talent, and thirdly it must be national and universal in its adaptations so as not merely to cultivate a taste for literature or furnish the mind with knowledge; but with a true philosophical spirit looking to the entire man so as to develop his whole being—moral, social, and intellectual."

The attempt to establish a chapter of Kappa Alpha at Hamilton in 1830 and the establishment of a chapter of Sigma Phi there in 1831 probably suggested to Mr. Eells some of the details in the development of his plan.

The Fraternity was rapidly extended, the first chapters being established either by the founders of the parent chapter, or those closely associated with them. It was the pioneer fraternity in eleven colleges and the second or third in eight others. As it sought students of decided literary tastes, it soon acquired a distinctive literary character which in a great measure it has retained.

As the result of additions and withdrawals there are now twenty-seven active chapters and eight inactive, with a total membership of approximately 23,000 of whom 14,000 are living. Twenty-five chapters own their own houses. There are no alumni chapters. Graduate associations, however, have sprung up in many cities and have been of great value to the Fraternity. Each one functions independently. These organizations are strongly encouraged by the Fraternity.

The Fraternity is an undergraduate organization composed of the twenty-seven undergraduate chapters, all having the same ritual and ideas but each operating within itself as an individual unit. Annually each chapter sends delegates to an international convention which is the central governing body. Here problems of general policy are discussed and recommendations made which may be of benefit to the several chapters and the organization as a whole. The convention elects each year three officers of the Fraternity, a President, a Vice-President, and a Secretary. These officers hold office for one year or until their successors are elected.

As the Fraternity grew through the establishment of additional chapters in various parts of the country, it became necessary to establish a central alumni organization to coordinate the activities of the undergraduate units. In 1879 a corporation was formed under a special act of the New York State legislature known as "The Executive Council of the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity." This Council is made up of the three officers of the Fraternity who are members ex officio, three members at large, one elected each year for a term of three years by the annual convention, and one representative elected every two years by each undergraduate chapter. An Executive Committee of seven members of the Executive Council functions on behalf of the Council between regular meetings which are held four times each year.

For the purpose of broadening the activities of the Executive Council and bringing about a closer contact with the undergraduate chapters, the office of Traveling Secretary was established in 1911. Since that time the incumbents of this office have dealt with matters relating to the welfare of the several chapters and of the Fraternity itself. Aside from chapter visitations with the attendant benefits of conferring with undergraduates on their local problems the Traveling Secretaries have been in contact with Resident Counselors and with college administrators and have brought about a closer relationship between the College or University, the local chapter and the Fraternity. At each regular meeting of the Executive Council the Traveling Secretary reports on his visitations since the previous meeting of that body.

The salary and expenses of the Traveling Secretary are provided through the income of the Traveling Secretary Fund, supplemented by annual contributions from the alumni organizations of the Fraternity. No charge is levied against the undergraduate chapters to support this activity.

From 1880 to 1885 the Executive Council published an annual magazine, the Star and Crescent. Currently each chapter issues printed "Chapter Letters," giving news of the Fraternity, the Chapter, and the Alumni. Song books were published at New Haven in 1855; at New York in 1859; Albany, N.Y., in 1864; Geneva, N.Y., in 1869; Amherst, Mass., in 1875; and New York, 1896, 1904, 1912, and 1925. The Executive Council issues an Executive Council News Letter in the Spring and in the Fall of each year.

In 1897, when he was President of the Fraternity, Clarence A. Seward, Hobart 1848, established the Seward Scholarship Fund. At present two scholarships are granted. One is always held by a member of the Hamilton Chapter and the other for four years by members of the other chapters in rotation.

In the fall of 1931 an international literary competition among the undergraduates of the Fraternity was inaugurated.

Starting in the year 1837 catalogues have been issued from time to time giving information regarding the Fraternity as a whole as well as the chapters and individual members. This volume dated June 1, 1949, is the twentieth so issued.

The original badge is an oblong slab with rounded corners, displaying on a shield of black enamel a white crescent bearing the letters "Α Δ Φ"; above the crescent is a green star with a gold center, and below is the date "1832" in gold. On the back is engraved a monument with crossed sword and spear. This badge was partly superseded for some years by a jeweled crescent displaying the letters "Α Δ Φ" holding a star between its horns, which was at first used as a graduate symbol only. In 1912 the Fraternity adopted a standard slab badge and restricted the wearing of its insignia to the standard badge in the case of undergraduates and to a badge or pendant by graduates.

On October 5, 1920, the Executive Council commissioned Captain Robert Aitken, a well known sculptor, to produce a statue in bronze emblematic of the fraternal and united spirit of all the Chapters of our Fraternity and of our two countries, Canada and the United States. This statue represents an American and a Canadian soldier, both of the rank of Lieutenant in their appropriate uniforms, wounded and helping each other off the field of battle. Under foot is a German helmet signifying that the struggle was crowned with victory. The group symbolizes service, leadership, sacrifice, and fraternity and is intended for all time to keep before our growing membership the great ideals of Alpha Delta Phi. A replica was placed in every chapter house as a constant reminder of the union of our several chapters and of our two Countries.

The Fraternity colors are emerald green and white with gold and black as subsidiary. The flower is the lily-of-the-valley. The pledge button is a shield divided vertically, half green, half white.

UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA
ALABAMA CHAPTER

THE ALABAMA CHAPTER

1850-1859

The Alabama Chapter was established at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, in 1850, by members of the Senior class, and remained for eight years an active and flourishing Chapter of the Fraternity, doing its appointed work, although at a distance from the other chapters and removed from immediate and frequent contact with them. The lively interest felt in the Chapter, and its firm hold upon the affections of its members, have been sufficiently attested in the correspondence of the compiler with its surviving members, whose result is apparent in the record of the Chapter. In 1858 the faculty of the University prohibited secret societies, and the Chapter suspended its active functions. The graduate members of the Chapter met immediately after this occurrence at Shelby Springs, Alabama, and organized a graduate association; but the war, in which so large a proportion of the members of the Chapter served under Confederate colors, early brought the annual reunions to a close. As the buildings, records and library of the University were burned during the war, sources of information as to college honors won by the Chapter are cut off.

THE AMHERST CHAPTER

Alpha Delta Phi was the first national Greek-letter fraternity to establish a chapter at Amherst. It developed from an original nucleus of eleven members of the class of 1837, who organized in September 1835, under the name of Iota Pi Kappa (significance unknown) to promote the study of history. Iota Pi Kappa was not destined to long life, for—as an account inscribed in Latin on the initial pages of the original minute book of the Amherst Chapter informs us—in September, 1836, after it had for a year "flourished and grown stronger," there arrived in Amherst two delegates from the Yale Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, who, having gained the good graces of the members of Iota Pi Kappa, disclosed to them the purpose of their coming, namely, to establish a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi at Amherst. Doubt was expressed that the "Facultas reverendissima" would approve of such a project while Iota Pi Kappa remained in existence; whereupon it was proposed that Iota Pi Kappa change its name and constitution to that of Alpha Delta Phi. Iota Pi Kappa immediately convened, and voted to send three delegates to be admitted into the fellowship and privileges and to look into the question. These accordingly did so, and reported back favorably; their report was then laid on the table. Finally, after two or three months of debate, during which time nearly all the members of Iota Pi Kappa were one by one initiated into Alpha Delta Phi, an agreement was reached ("duobus exceptis") to discard the constitution of Iota Pi Kappa and to adopt that of Alpha Delta Phi. The first meeting of the new Chapter was held on Monday, January 9, 1837, in the room of one of its members. The charter members of the Amherst Chapter numbered seventeen members of the classes of 1837 and 1838.

The history of the Chapter has been on the whole one of well-ordered growth and development. During the first five years of the Chapter's history its membership was confined to the Senior and Junior classes. But the advent of another fraternity, in 1841, and the rivalry which sprang up between the two societies compelled the admission of Sophomores and Freshmen. Since that time the Chapter has consisted of members of all four classes, chosen, for the most part, at the beginning of Freshman year. Until 1879, however, the two lower delegations did not wear the badge of the Fraternity.

In 1873, they entered into negotiations to secure a house and grounds. These efforts resulted in the purchase of a chapter house, in 1874, and the society took possession of its new property in August, 1875. This chapter house was the first in Amherst.

The great fire on the morning of July 4, 1879, which swept away the business part of Amherst, did not spare Alpha Delta Phi; but the Chapter had the good fortune to save all its records. A new chapter house was built (1889-1890), occupying a commanding situation near the old house. In 1929 on this same piece of property another and larger home was constructed.

When the United States entered World War II in December, 1941, the fraternities were still functioning at Amherst. Many of the Brothers were soon signed up in one of the various programs for military or naval service which were available to college men. The last formal pre-war initiation took place in the fall of 1942 when the 1946 delegation was initiated.

By the spring term of 1943 the various fraternities were so depleted that sharing of dormitory facilities in the houses was necessary to reduce operating costs. The departure of regular students and the arrival of army, navy and air force training units soon put a stop to all normal fraternity activities. At one time there was only one brother remaining on the campus and the house was leased to the college.

With the fraternities dormant, the Alumni Council, Faculty and Trustees were able to make a thorough study of conditions of former operation, with the co-operation of representatives of all the fraternities. The fraternities were allowed to reopen in the fall of 1945 under the supervision of a House Management Committee consisting of an alumnus and undergraduate representative of each fraternity and the non-fraternity group. The result appears to be a system of workable sub-committees for rushing, conduct in houses, national expenses and faculty advisers.

The eleven year old Fraternity Business Management was organized by the fraternities themselves to assist in the business side of operation. The House Management Committee was set up at the request of the Trustees of the College to supervise the social aspects of the fraternities. The operation of these two committees has been a revelation in fraternity co-operation and understanding.

Under the new system men are not initiated until sophomore year. Initiations were resumed in the fall of 1946 and the chapter welcomed the new brothers along with a gratifying number of returning veterans, from classes which had previously been graduated, to complete their courses.

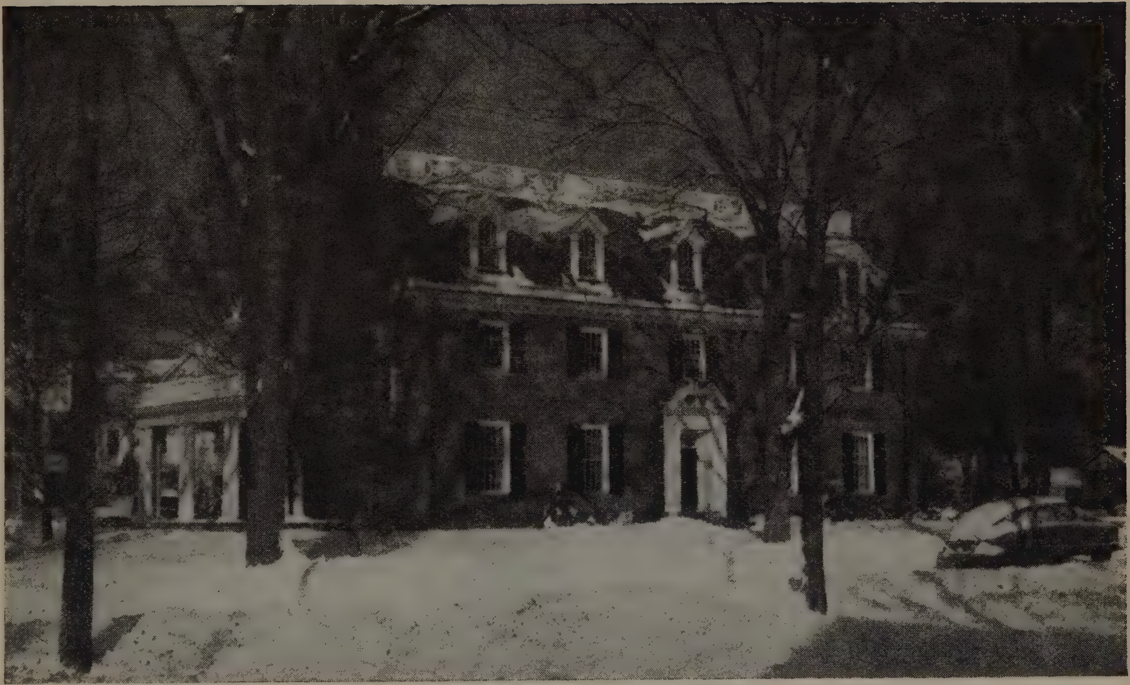
BOWDOIN COLLEGE
BOWDOIN CHAPTER



BOWDOIN

THE BOWDOIN CHAPTER

1841-

The Bowdoin Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was established on October 16, 1861. The charter members were all of the Class of 1842. For the first few years the meetings of the Chapter were held in a small building on the west side of the road running in front of the College, the structure having been built for an academy and being known as the Chateau or Gothic Hall. It had been thought that the Bowdoin Faculty was opposed to the establishment of secret societies, but they were consulted and offered no objection. The Chapter was fortunate in the selection of suitable members from the very first, and at once established an enviable reputation for scholarship and general leadership. It was the first fraternity on the Bowdoin campus.

The Alpha Delta Phi Chapter House Association was formed in July, 1898, "to acquire and maintain a chapter house in Brunswick for the use of the members of the Bowdoin Chapter." In that same year property situated on the corner of Maine and Potter Streets was purchased and remodeled into the first fraternity house at Bowdoin. This chapter house served as the home of the Alpha Delta Phi until 1924.

At the Annual Meeting held on June 18, 1924, a Building Committee was appointed with power to proceed with the erection of a modern chapter house. The next annual meeting, in June, 1925, was held in the new chapter house which had been erected on the site of the former one. This house, the present home of the Bowdoin Chapter, was made possible by substantial and generous contributions from nearly all of the alumni. In addition to these contributions the Association has received several generous bequests, notable among which was a bequest of $20,000, under the will of Marshall P. Cram, A.B., Ph.D., Bowdoin, 1904, Professor of Chemistry at Bowdoin for many years, who died in 1933.

The Chapter kept its flag flying gallantly throughout World War II. Despite the reduction of the size of the College to minimum figures, and the handicaps of a quota system established by the College administration, the Chapter continued its organization, including meetings, initiations, and all fraternity functions. Although the active Chapter was reduced at one point to six brothers, the group carried on with true Alpha Delta Phi spirit, and maintained the high traditions of the Chapter, throughout the entire War period.

In World War II, about 200 members of the Bowdoin Chapter served in the Armed Services in all grades and ranks from Private to Major General; and the Bowdoin Chapter has laid on the country's altar seven brothers who gave their lives in the service of their country. In the midst of its sorrow at the loss of these brothers, the Chapter records the great pride it takes in their memory.

"They shall grow not old as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them."

With the large number of brothers returning from the Armed Services since October, 1945, the Chapter has experienced recently a larger enrollment than ever in its history.

UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA
BRITISH COLUMBIA CHAPTER

BRITISH COLUMBIA

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA CHAPTER

1926-

In 1922, the delegates to the ninetieth convention of Alpha Delta Phi considered further expansion in Canada. Accordingly, the McGill and Toronto Chapters were instructed to survey the situation and to keep the other Chapters informed as to the latest developments among Canadian colleges and universities. At the Fraternity convention in 1924, members of the Executive Council became interested in the University of British Columbia as a possible field for the Fraternity. They realized the advantage of its proximity to the Washington Chapter as well as the promising growth of the University. Accordingly, two alumni of the Toronto Chapter, resident in Vancouver and formerly active in the negotiations pertaining to the installation of the Washington Chapter, were asked to investigate the possibility of establishing a chapter at the University of British Columbia. In the course of their inquiries they came in contact with alumni of a prominent local fraternity on the campus known as Phi Epsilon.

This local group had a short but interesting career. Formed in 1912, it flourished until the outbreak of war in 1914, when the entire body left on active service. In 1916, certain members, who had returned to Vancouver, organized a chapter of their fraternity in the new University of British Columbia which had taken over McGill University College. From that time, the University Chapter of Phi Epsilon was continuously in existence quite independently of the town group.

Early in 1925, the University Chapter asked to be allowed to petition Alpha Delta Phi and those of their alumni who had not attended the University of British Columbia, although realizing that they could not be signatories to the petition, gave enthusiastic support to the others in their request. Having secured the endorsement of the Vancouver Alumni Association of Alpha Delta Phi and the formal support of several chapters, including those in Canada and on the Pacific Coast, a petition was presented to the several chapters in December, 1925.

On February 17, 1926, word was received that the Fraternity had granted a charter for a chapter in the University of British Columbia to be known as the British Columbia Chapter, and the formal installation took place on September 25 of the same year.

In 1935, the British Columbia Chapter were hosts with the Washington Chapter to the 103rd Convention of Alpha Delta Phi.

The British Columbia Chapter has had a fine war record. At one time during the Second World War the Chapter was left with only three brothers to carry on the work of the Fraternity upon the campus. However, the Chapter gradually grew in number and in strength and now it holds an enviable position amongst the other fraternities on the campus.

On December 23, 1948, the Chapter purchased a new house located at 3890 Cartier, Vancouver, B.C., Canada.

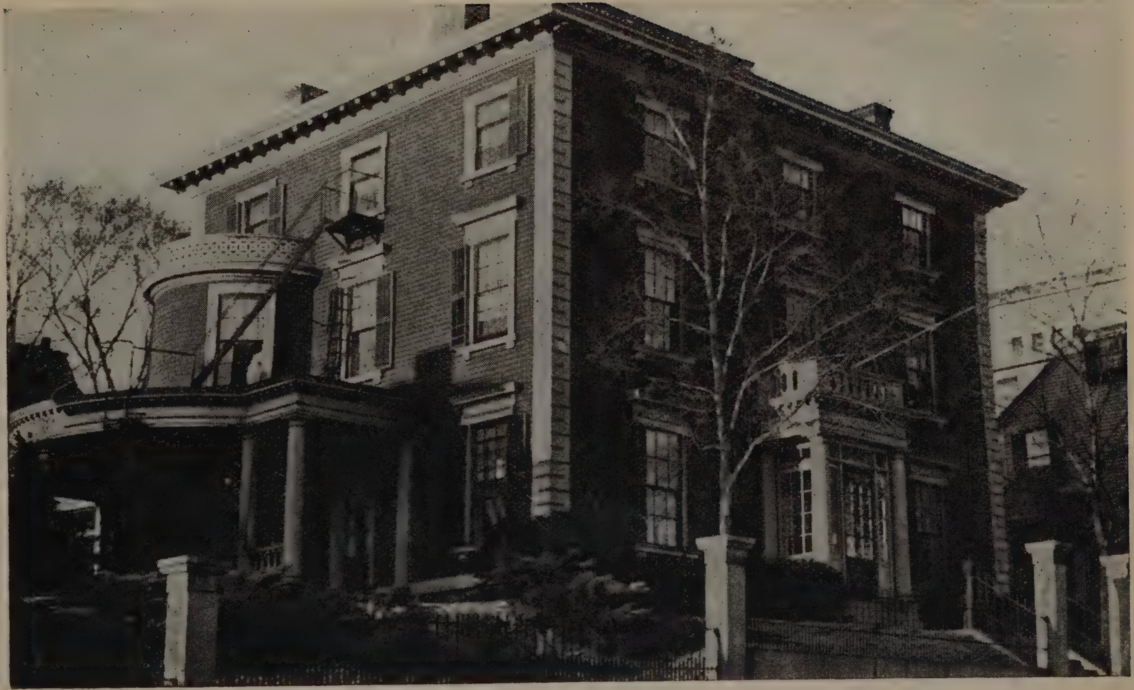
BROWN UNIVERSITY
BRUNONIAN CHAPTER



BROWN

THE BRUNONIAN CHAPTER

1836-1841, 1851-

The Brunonian Chapter was formally instituted in 1836 when certain students of Brown University in Providence, Rhode Island, petitioned for a charter from the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity. A delegation consisting of three men from the Hamilton, Columbia, and Yale Chapters came to Providence in the autumn of 1836 and inducted a group of undergraduates into the Fraternity. Meetings were held weekly on Saturday mornings and members were chosen only from the three upper classes in the University. It was adherence to the principle of selecting only outstanding upper-classmen which interrupted the continuity of the Chapter in 1838 when other fraternities had established themselves at Brown and proceeded to initiate members of the freshman class. The Alpha Delta Phi Chapter refused to accept freshmen for membership and was unwilling to choose men from classes already canvassed by rivals, and therefore during the period from 1838 to 1850 no initiations occurred.

The Chapter was reorganized in 1850 when a small fraternity at Brown, of which there was one other chapter in New England, namely at Williams, sought to become affiliated with the Alpha Delta Phi. This petition was granted due chiefly to the former reputation of the Brunonion Chapter and the hearty coöperation of its graduates. On the evening of April 15, 1851, William Wallace Crapo, Yale '52, by authority of the Fraternity met in Providence and initiated as members of Alpha Delta Phi seventeen students in Brown University of the Classes of 1851, 1852, 1853, and 1854. There immediately grew up a thorough sympathy between the new initiates and their predecessors of a dozen years, and the revived Chapter proceeded very much as though there had been no break in the line of succession.

For many years prior to 1904 chapter meetings were held Friday nights in a building at the foot of Waterman Street in Providence called the "Arnold Block." In 1904 the present chapter property located at 54 College Street was purchased. The far-sighted committee in charge of the purchase and renovation of the fraternity quarters raised sufficient funds so that the property would be, from the beginning, absolutely free from debt. The Chapter was indebted to Brother John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Brn. '97, for a substantial contribution at this time which made possible the construction of a handsome "Lodge" or "Tomb," adjacent to the chapter house in which chapter meetings are held each Monday night during the college year.

The Brunonian Chapter has continuously prospered and has the reputation in Providence and among members of the faculty of being an outstanding fraternity in the university community.

In 1944, at the request of Brown University, The Alpha Delta Phi Association, a corporation which owned the Chapter real estate and which holds the Endowment Fund of the Chapter, gave the Chapter property at 54 College Street to Brown University. That property is now occupied by the Chapter pending the construction by Brown University of other quarters for all fraternities in a fraternity quadrangle.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
CALIFORNIA CHAPTER

CALIFORNIA

THE CALIFORNIA CHAPTER

1908-

In 1900, a local fraternity, Phi Sigma Delta, was organized at the University of California with the intent of securing a charter from Alpha Delta Phi. For eight years, in spite of annual disappointment, the members of Phi Sigma Delta persevered in their efforts to obtain a charter. Success was finally achieved in September, 1908, when the California Chapter was installed. The installation, which advanced Alpha Delta Phi 2,000 miles westward, opened the way for the establishment of other chapters on the Pacific Coast.

During the petitioning period and the years immediately following the establishment of the Chapter, the influence of Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Brunonian, 1875, then President of the University of California was preeminent. Today, years after his death, the spirit of Benjamin Ide Wheeler is still felt in the Chapter house, being kept alive by the leading alumni who knew him in the early days of the Chapter.

Soon after securing an established position, the Chapter turned to the problem of obtaining adequate housing facilities. Generous aid from the alumni of the California Chapter and of other chapters was obtained. The Chapter house, formally opened and dedicated in September, 1924, provided the active Chapter and the alumni with one of the most attractive fraternity houses in Berkeley. Built on the brow of a hill, it commands a sweeping view over San Francisco Bay.

National Conventions of the fraternity were held under the auspices of the California Chapter in 1915 and the joint auspices of the California and Stanford Chapters in 1938.

During the second World War the Chapter was the only fraternity at California which maintained normal operations. The efforts which were necessary to accomplish this result will have a beneficial effect on the Chapter for years to come.

In 1946 the California Alpha Delta Phi Memorial Foundation was established and dedicated as a war memorial. The Foundation's purpose is to give financial aid to worthy students at the University.

In 1948 the alumni organization of the Chapter was revitalized by the establishment of an Alumni Council composed of one member from each delegation. The Alumni Council will be the basic governing body of the alumni organization.

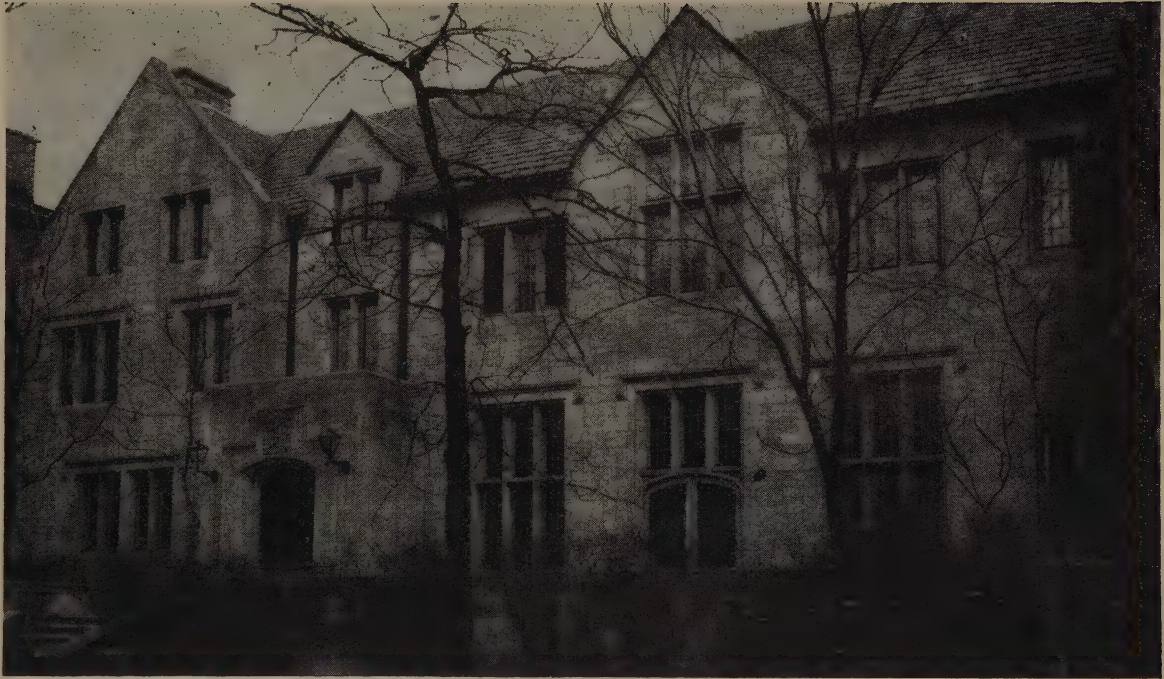
UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
CHICAGO CHAPTER



CHICAGO

THE CHICAGO CHAPTER

1896-

The Lion's Head club was organized December 17, 1894, in room 21 of Snell Hall on the University of Chicago Campus. The club had two objects, the first of which was to bring together a congenial group of men who had become known as anti-fraternity men because each had refused one or more bids from established fraternities. The second and most important purpose was to work for a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi.

Early in 1895 a petition was prepared setting forth the advantages of the University of Chicago as a place for a new chapter and when the convention met, the petition was approved. It was then referred to the individual chapters for ratification, the last necessary vote being received late in December, 1895.

With the granting of the charter the question at once arose as to the fate of the Lion's Head club. At first it was decided to formally disband and use the club as the nucleus of a senior honor society, but finally, the organization passed out of existence with the initiation of its members into Alpha Delta Phi.

On the night of March 20, 1896, ten men were initiated at the Auditorium Hotel and became charter members of the Chicago Chapter. Fortunately, all but two of these men entered graduate work at the University of Chicago thus avoiding some of the usual tribulations of a new chapter in its earliest days.

The first chapter house occupied was very small and did not afford ample space for a dining room. Here the Chapter remained for two years, but with growing members was compelled to move to a larger house. With continuous expansion the chapter lived in several other houses before acquiring a house on the present site, which was torn down in 1928 and replaced with the present structure of Indiana limestone and Gothic architecture.

The Chicago Chapter is unique in several ways, the most noteworthy of which is the fact that it is the only graduate chapter of Alpha Delta Phi. This situation is a product of the Chicago Plan of education which eleminates fraternities from undergraduate life and substitutes a college-house organization controlled by the University.

Another aspect peculiar to this chapter is the strong Chicago Society which is an active organization of five hundred alumni and which regularly schedules functions in connection with the active chapter. These functions take the form of an annual banquet and quarterly "graduate seminars."

Finally, a tradition which has grown out of the literary program has been the writing, directing and producing of an annual spring play by the active chapter, a function which materially strengthens the tie between the brothers past and present.

The Chicago Chapter has always ranked high on the campus in scholarship, in athletics and in fellowship, and has dedicated itself to the development of its members in these respects as the essence of a well-rounded education.

COLLEGE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
MANHATTAN CHAPTER

THE MANHATTAN CHAPTER

1855-1913

On the evening of March 9, 1855, eleven members of the New York Free Academy assembled at the Collamore House, Broadway, and there met two graduates of the Amherst Chapter, who avowed themselves so much pleased with the spirit manifested by the men there assembled, that they pledged themselves to use their whole influence with their own and other Chapters to obtain a charter for the petitioners.

As a consequence of this meeting an application for the membership in the Fraternity was drawn up and a committee appointed for that purpose, and presented to the Amherst Chapter. The affirmative answer of that Chapter was received on April 6, 1855, and the other Chapters having signified their approbation, a charter was issued, dated July 9, 1855, and the evening of Monday, July 9, 1855, was chosen for the initiation of the new Chapter, at which time the ceremony was performed; and Manhattan Chapter held its first regular meeting on Thursday, July 12, 1855, at the residence of one of the brothers.

From this time onward the Chapter prospered, and on February 19, 1856, held its first meeting in its new rooms, No. 809 Broadway, as yet not entirely furnished. After the completion of the hall a special dedicatory meeting was held May 29, 1856, at which brothers from the Hamilton, Urban, Columbia, Yale, Amherst, Harvard, Geneva, Dartmouth, and Williams Chapters were present.

On June 24 and 25, 1857, the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention was held in New York City. The occasion was a great one in the Fraternity, and Manhattan Chapter received great benefit thereby.

For a long time the Chapter held the even tenor of its way, nothing especially worthy of note occurring until in May, 1859, it received notice that the initiation of the Union Chapter was to be entrusted to Manhattan. Three brothers served as the committee for the Chapter, and on July 8 seventeen men of that College were duly initiated. In the latter part of this year the Graduate Chapter in New York, so long a noted, useful and helpful body of brothers, first met as an organized body.

In the spring of 1891 the Chapter moved to its separate quarters at 13 East 42nd Street. These rooms were well adapted to the giving of private theatricals, which formed a pleasant feature of the Chapter gatherings.

In the winter of 1896 the Chapter moved into a commodious brown stone house at 130 East 57th Street.

In 1913, the Chapter became inactive and conditions on the campus have not been considered propitious for its revival. The Fraternity as a whole owes a debt of gratitude to the many distinguished alumni of the Manhattan Chapter for their generous interest in the Fraternity, which has continued up until the present day.

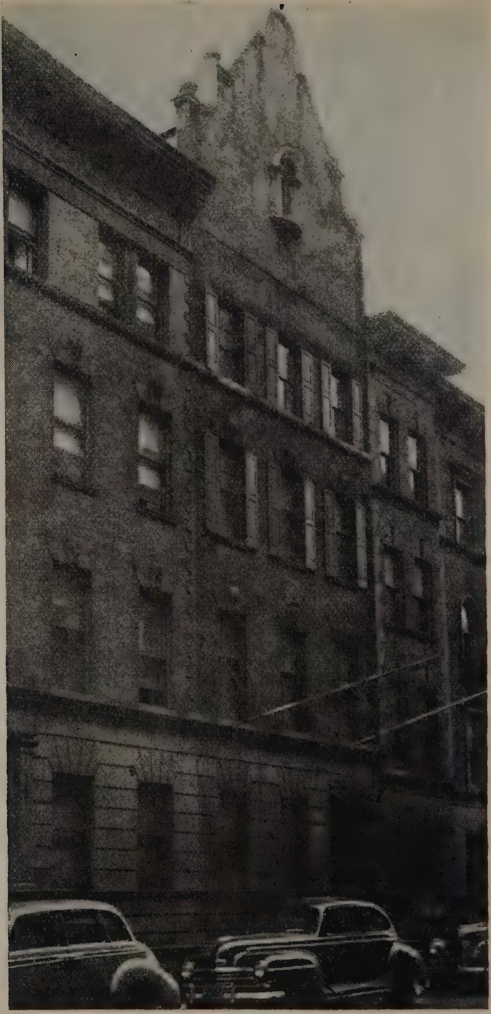
COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY
COLUMBIA CHAPTER



COLUMBIA

THE COLUMBIA CHAPTER

1836-1840, 1881-

The first Greek-letter fraternity to be established at Columbia was the Columbia Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, which was founded in 1836 by John Jay and John Henry Hobart. At that time the Fraternity was four years old, and Columbia was the fourth college at which a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was chartered.

The first meeting was held on June 16, 1836, presided over by Arthur Cleveland Coxe, an active member of the Urban Chapter. At this meeting four men were initiated.

The rapid growth and increasing influence of this secret brotherhood served only to deepen the jealousy of the uninitiated. At length the Chapter numbered thirty-three, and their progress excited such unpleasant feelings between classmates that the Chapter returned its charter to the archives of the Fraternity, having reached the fourth year of its existence.

An interval of forty years now succeeded. From time to time applications for a charter of Alpha Delta Phi were received from students of Columbia College; but none met the entire approval of the Fraternity until the reception of the petition of the reorganizers of the Chapter.

With the surviving brothers and the Fraternity at large to encourage them, eight undergraduates assumed the task of reëstablishing Alpha Delta Phi in Columbia. The initiation ceremony took place Wednesday evening, May 18, 1881. It was conducted by representatives from the following Chapters: Hamilton, Yale, Amherst, Harvard, Geneva, Peninsular, Dartmouth, Williams, Manhattan, Middletown, Kenyon, Union, Cornell, and Phi Kappa.

Ever since the Chapter has prospered and grown in importance and influence. After Columbia became a University and moved to Morningside Heights, a chapter house was purchased and was occupied until 1926. It had been evident for several years that this house was inadequate and too far removed from the campus, and in 1926 the Association of the Graduates of the Columbia Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi bought a larger house fronting upon the campus. It was dedicated on March 4, 1927, and has since been the home of the Columbia Chapter. The membership varies from thirty to forty.

CORNELL UNIVERSITY
CORNELL CHAPTER

CORNELL

THE CORNELL CHAPTER

1869-

The Cornell Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was founded in 1869 when seven alumni of other chapters, foreseeing the development of the University, decided that it would be a great opportunity for a successful chapter of the Fraternity. Arrangements were made for the Chapter, the charter members were chosen, and the first initiation took place in March, 1869, at the Rochester Chapter.

At this time rooms were secured on Tioga Street, Ithaca, N.Y., where meetings were held until the following year when new rooms were taken on the Wilgus block. At midnight, May 4, 1878, sufficient funds having been subscribed by interested alumni, ground was broken on Buffalo Street for the construction of the new house. It is believed that this house was the first house to be built in America for fraternity use only.

During these years the Chapter grew rapidly and became one of the leading organizations "on the hill." The house on Buffalo Street was occupied until 1903 when a new house was built overlooking Stewart Avenue to accommodate the expanded chapter. This house was, until its destruction by fire on February 11, 1929, one of the most beautiful houses on the campus. Immediately following the fire a special meeting was held at which the offer of the senior officers and directors of the Chi Phi house was accepted by the Chapter to take up temporary quarters at the Chi Phi house. The remainder of the term was spent there and the next two years on Summit Avenue. In the Spring of 1931, through the great interest of alumni, the construction of a new and slightly larger house was begun on the old Stewart Avenue foundations. The present house was completed in the Fall of that year, and is one of the most notable on the campus.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War II practically the entire chapter went into service and the Chapter House was officially closed.

The Chapter House was taken over by the Navy and served as a home for a large number of the men in training at Cornell. About ninety-four men were housed at a time—which is about three times the normal capacity.

The House was returned on November 30, 1945, in first class condition. A few Chapter members returned in the spring of 1946. By the fall enough members had returned to fill the house and the chapter was officially reopened at the beginning of the 1946 Fall Term.

The spirit and morale have been excellent and there has been no difficulty in keeping a full complement of members.

Throughout the period of its existence at Cornell the Alpha Delta Phi Chapter has been outstanding in college activities and organizations and has turned out many prominent leaders in the affairs of the nation.

CUMBERLAND UNIVERSITY
CUMBERLAND CHAPTER

THE CUMBERLAND CHAPTER

1857-1861

The Cumberland Chapter was organized in the year 1857. During that year the Trustees of the Alabama University, at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, abolished all the Greek-letter fraternities existing at that institution, thereby compelling the Alabama Chapter to suspend its functions. Thereupon two members of the latter Chapter, who were at the time members of the Law School of the Cumberland University, at Lebanon, Tennessee, by authority of the Chapter and upon the advice of the graduate association, organized the Cumberland Chapter, and transferred to it the charter and records of their own Chapter. The legal status of the newly organized Chapter was not, however, fully settled until the next convention, and its list of membership first appeared in the catalogue of 1860.

At the breaking out of the great war between the States in 1861, the University, then one of the oldest, most celebrated and flourishing institutions in the South, was deserted by its students, nearly all of whom enlisted in the Confederate service; and its portals were closed. The college buildings subserved only the purpose of barracks for soldiers of both contending armies, and the University did not re-open until after the war.

The Cumberland Chapter suspended its active functions in 1861, and this fact was recognized by the convention of 1863.

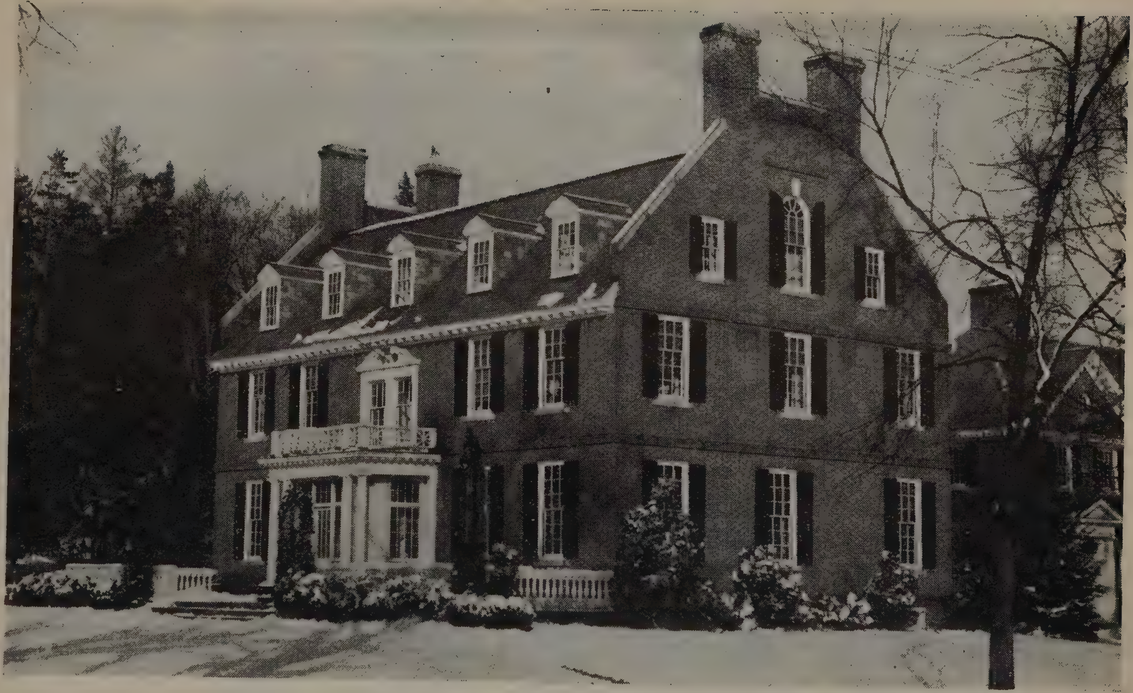
DARTMOUTH COLLEGE
DARTMOUTH CHAPTER



DARTMOUTH

THE DARTMOUTH CHAPTER

1846-

During the college year 1842-43 the Tau Delta Theta Society was organized at Dartmouth College with fourteen members, all from the Sophomore Class. It was small in numbers but well selected and managed. It moved on quietly, minded its own business, and did much good work. The next few years, however, found potent aspirations awakening within the bosom of the young society. In the autumn of 1844 it entered into correspondence with the Amherst Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, with a view of converting the Tau Delta Theta into a chapter of the Alpha Delta Phi. The Amherst Chapter seemed to favor such a change; but no definite results were reached. At the same time strenuous efforts were made to keep other Dartmouth societies uninformed as to the initiation and progress of the ambitious plan. For such was the state of inter-fraternity jealousy that every possible hostile influence was brought to bear on the group; several times the negotiators resorted to long and tedious stage-coach trips to avoid the possibility of the mails being intercepted by rivals. Continued delay on the part of the Amherst Chapter only brought forth renewed effort from Hanover. Finally the petition was granted, and, conveyed by a delegation composed of brothers from Amherst and Yale, a charter arrived sanctioning the new chapter of the Alpha Delta Phi.

The presence of the delegates in Hanover put an end to all doubts in the minds of both Tau Delta and their rivals. On a windy March evening in 1846 the installation took place in Professor Sanborn's study (a room reproduced and preserved as a museum in Sanborn House), the charter was produced and signed, and Tau Delta Theta was formally evolved into the Dartmouth Chapter of the Alpha Delta Phi. With the same zeal that characterized its struggle for establishment, the new fraternity, quartered in its first club-rooms in old Dartmouth Hall, began its long career at Dartmouth.

The Chapter House was closed during World War II, along with the houses of all the other fraternities. This closing took place in June, 1942, and from that time until March, 1946, the Chapter House remained closed and the Chapter itself nonoperative. The Dartmouth Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was reborn in March, 1946, with some 15 brothers (ranging from the 1940 through the 1947 delegations) returning from the war. Immediately following the opening of all the fraternities, a new pledging took place, bringing the Chapter up to prewar levels, both in numbers and in quality. From that time on, the Dartmouth Chapter has continued in its position of leadership that was only temporarily interrupted by World War II.

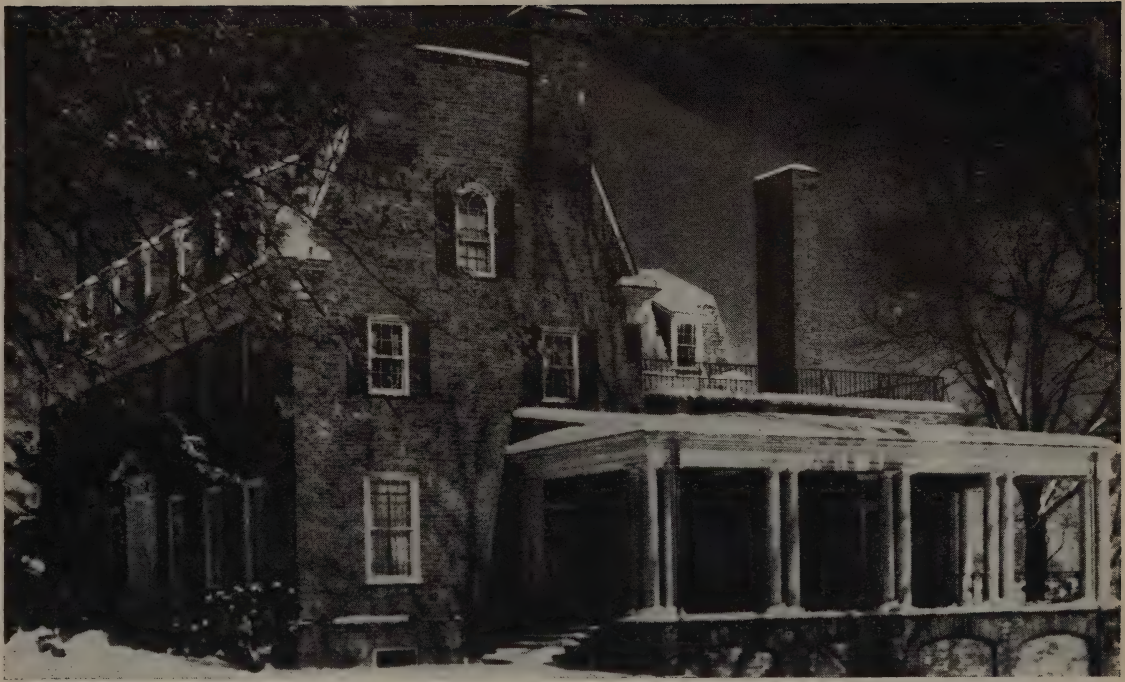
HAMILTON COLLEGE
HAMILTON CHAPTER



HAMILTON

THE HAMILTON CHAPTER

1832-

The early history of the Hamilton Chapter is the early history of the Fraternity. In the winter of 1831-32 five students of Hamilton College came together in an upper chamber, after the evening lamps were lighted, to devise a method of helping each other forward in their study and culture and preparation for the future. Yielding to a good inspiration, which sometimes teaches the inexperienced to plan and build more wisely than they know, these five young men banded themselves together in a life-long lease which had in it the seeds of a widespread institution. The names of the five students were: Samuel Eells, who died in Cincinnati in 1842; Lorenzo Latham, who died in New Orleans in 1860; Henry Lemuel Storrs, whose death, in 1852, closed the early career of an eloquent and devoted minister; Oliver Andrew Morse, who died in 1870; and John C. Underwood, whose death occurred in 1873. In this movement Samuel Eells exercised a controlling influence. When he entered college there were in the institution two literary societies, the Phoenix and the Philopeuthian. The strong rivalry between these two societies was not infrequently inflamed into a feeling of hostility and bitterness. The evils connected with this state of things suggested to the mind of Mr. Eells the establishing of a "society of a higher nature and more comprehensive and higher principle." He meditated long and in private over the principles and the plan of the organization. In 1830 it existed only in idea; but in the fall of that year events occurred which induced him to hasten the attempt to clothe the idea with the outward form of reality. A few of the leading members of the two literary societies were approached with caution and finally admitted to his confidence. All approved of the plan and pledged themselves to the work. The first meeting was held in Mr. Eells's room, No. 15, Kirkland Hall. It was a meeting for consultation only, and no presiding officer was appointed, nor were any minutes taken. At a subsequent meeting Lorenzo Latham and Samuel Eells were appointed a committee to report a constitution and a badge. The whole of the constitution as at first adopted was drawn up by Mr. Eells. It is apparent from this sketch that the beginnings of Alpha Delta Phi are veiled to some extent in that obscurity which surrounds the origin of almost all institutions. It did not spring at once into full-grown manhood, but developed and matured until, in 1832, it attained its complete proportions.

The Chapter, in 1882, erected the "Samuel Eells Memorial Hall," a stone building, in honor of the founder, which served as the hall of the Chapter until June, 1928, when construction of a new house was begun. The new Chapter House, also known as "Samuel Eells Memorial Hall," was completed and first occupied in the fall of 1929. At that time the remains of Samuel Eells were removed to the Samuel Eells Memorial Hall.

In September, 1932, the Mother Chapter acted as host to the other Chapters at the Centenary of the founding of the Fraternity.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY
HARVARD CHAPTER

THE HARVARD CHAPTER

1837-1865, 1879-1907

In 1836 there was in Harvard College no purely literary society to which Seniors and Juniors belonged as active members. The clubs were convivial or dramatic clubs, and active membership in the Institute and Iota Omicron Eta—which were debating societies rather than literary societies—ceased with the sophomore year. There existed at the same time a good nucleus for such an organization in the committee of editors of Harvardiana, a College monthly, which was conducted with some spirit by the classes of '35, '36, '37, and '38. The editors of Harvardiana, in '37 and '38, were men of decided ability, among them James Russell Lowell, '38. The suggestion was made to the editors of the class of '37, that they should form a literary society to be affiliated with Alpha Delta Phi. The men from '38 chose, as their successors in the society, the five editors of Harvardiana, who were to follow them.

The club had the decided advantage of being absolutely prohibited by the authorities. The Faculty was not fond of any society in those days, and would have given no permission for the formation of a new one, least of all to the founding of a secret society affiliated with other colleges. The consciousness of this prohibition gave all the more zest to the meetings. The society hired a room in Holyoke street, and provided the better magazines of the day to make it a reading-room. They laid out a good deal of literary work, and they seem to have done it. The standard was rather that of the press than that of public speaking, and the papers written and criticized were written as if for a magazine or review. This was the ideal of the society for many years.

With the class of '65 the society was discontinued at Harvard.

In the winter of 1878-79 the desire sprung up among several of the Juniors and Seniors to reëstablish the society, with very much the same wish which had led to its formation at Cambridge. The most active members again were the editors of the College newspapers, and they proposed the reëstablishment of the society. The graduate members, who had always looked with regret on its discontinuance, were well pleased at the idea of a revival. The Convention of 1877 having given powers to a committee of graduates, in February, '79, the chairman of the committee, with the assistance of several members of the Fraternity, initiated four gentlemen from the two upper classes, and gave them power to elect and initiate members into the revived Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi.

In the autumn of 1896 ground was broken for a new house, which was opened in the late spring of 1897.

The Chapter was again withdrawn in 1907 at the instance of its members, who found it difficult to fulfill their obligations to the Fraternity and at the same time conform to the customs of the Club System at Harvard. The members formed the Fly Club which still continues active among the local organizations of the Harvard undergraduates.

HOBART COLLEGE
GENEVA CHAPTER

THE GENEVA CHAPTER

1840-1876

On the evening of March 23, 1840, Mr. George Underwood and Mr. James Wickes Taylor, members of the Hamilton Chapter, organized the Geneva Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, initiating two from the Senior Class, two from the Junior Class, and one from the Sophomore Class, together with Morse Stewart, a medical student of Penn Yan, and formerly a member of Hamilton College.

It seems to have been the custom at that time for secret societies to obtain charters, wherever established, from the college authorities, and in this case, objection having been made by the Faculty that the specific objects of the society were unknown to any of their body. In May Rev. Benjamin Hale, President of the College, was invited to become a member. This invitation was accepted, and on August 4 President Hale was duly initiated, and ever remained deeply interested in the Chapter and the society.

Until the closing of the Chapter in May, 1876, the history of the Geneva Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi is, with unimportant exceptions, a record of continued and gratifying success.

The early rule of the society, that no elections or initiations could be made till the third term Sophomore, was soon felt by this Chapter to be a drag. In 1842 we find the Chapter earnestly agitating for a repeal of the rule, and the adoption of one which would leave each Chapter to judge for itself the time of election and initiation.

While it never was the policy of the Chapter to take a man simply for his class standing, it is felt to be a matter of congratulation that the ability to win college honors was so often found conjoined with those other characteristics sought for in the choice of members.

To the members of the Chapter, the Chapter was known as "Our Lady of the Lake," and, by a pleasant fiction, it was in honor of "Our Lady" that Commencement reunions were held.

From 1864 to 1873 the Chapter indulged in a navy; and on the waters of the silver Seneca was waged many a contest with "hostile friends" and others. It was a period of great interest in the history of the Chapter. The Alpha Delta Phi navy survived its rivals, and died at last from want of a foeman. The champion flag is today among the archives of the Chapter.

With sister chapters the Geneva Chapter ever cultivated the most cordial relations; but it felt itself especially bound to Hamilton as its parent and to Cornell as its child.

The Chapter was closed in May, 1876. On account of unhappy dissensions in the Board of Trustees, a sudden and great reduction in the number of students attending the College took place that year, and after consultation, it was deemed best to withdraw the Chapter.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS
ILLINOIS CHAPTER

ILLINOIS

THE ILLINOIS CHAPTER

1911-

In February, 1903, a local fraternity, which took the name of Pi Theta, was organized at the University of Illinois by twelve men.

This organization in its beginning had as one of its objectives the securing of a Charter to become a Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi. This was the result of contact with a number of members of Alpha Delta Phi, especially two on the Faculty of the University of Illinois, Herbert Jewett Barton, Professor of Latin, Dartmouth and Middletown, '76, and Elliott Judd Northrup, Professor of Law, Amherst, '92.

Upon organization, the group rented a house in which the members lived and had their meals together. The membership was composed entirely of men of standing and attainment in the University, and the group from its inception had the good will and respect of the University authorities. It added membership of the same character and very shortly submitted a formal petition to the Fraternity asking that it be granted a charter. This was not granted upon the first application, nor upon several successive applications.

The failure to gain the objective did not discourage the members. The organization grew in strength as an important local fraternity at the University. By the year 1906 it had commanded the respect of a very considerable number of the Chapters of Alpha Delta Phi.

Following the 1908 Convention of Alpha Delta Phi, held under the auspices of the Minnesota Chapter, representatives from all of the Chapters, upon the invitation of the local organization made a visit to the University of Illinois and the Pi Theta Fraternity. In 1911, the Charter was granted and the Illinois Chapter was installed at the University Club, Chicago, Illinois, January 13, 1912.

During the long campaign Professor Barton, in particular, was an enthusiastic champion of the new chapter and valuable counselor and adviser. After the installation, he became its resident counselor and continued in that capacity until his death in September, 1933. Illinois Chapter owes much to his memory for his great loyalty to Alpha Delta Phi, his exemplification of the finest traditions and ideals of the Fraternity and his sympathetic leadership.

The Illinois Chapter owes much to Brother Henry W. Austin, Williams, '88, who has been a frequent visitor on the campus, a wise counselor and more than any one else responsible for the material progress of the Chapter from a small rented house to a beautiful modern fraternity house.

JOHNS HOPKINS

THE JOHNS HOPKINS CHAPTER

1889-

In November, 1888, there gathered together a band of graduate and undergraduate students in this University, intending to procure a charter from the Alpha Delta Phi Fraternity.

After overcoming the determined opposition of several Fratres in Facultate, a formal application, signed by fourteen, endorsed by all the Fratres in Facultate, and by prominent Fratres in Urbe, was sent to the Executive Council, which voted unanimously to report the application unfavorably to the several Chapters of Alpha Delta Phi.

In the meantime, in Baltimore, a preliminary organization was effected under whose aggressive direction the project was ultimately brought to a successful termination.

When the Executive Council first reported unfavorably, two interested brothers of Phi Kappa had a long interview with its Chairman, persuaded him to withhold the report of the vote, to call another meeting, and to allow the Johns Hopkins men to send representatives, who should be allowed to speak before the meeting.

Accordingly, on February 1, 1889, two representatives went to New York, were thoroughly coached by the two Phi Kappa brothers and were duly presented to the Council. Armed with letters and documents from President Gilman and the preliminary organization, our representatives induced the Council to consent unanimously and to report enthuiastically in our favor. Then followed a long wait, on account of many vexatious delays, during which the preliminary organization was perfected. This took unto itself the name Alpha Delta Epsilon: (Aspiro Dum Expiro) i.e., "While there's life there's hope."

It was in those days that another Phi Kappa brother made a tour of the New York and Western Chapters and persuaded them to vote for us. On his return to the East he went to Yale and induced that Chapter to regard us with favor. Finally, all had voted for us.

On May 6, nine Johns Hopkins men proceeded to New Haven. At nine P.M., under the auspices of the Executive Council, they were initiated, and our Chapter was founded in the presence of nearly a hundred brothers, young and old, from all parts of the country. At midnight the new Chapter met and elected its officers, also delegates to the Convention which was to be held with the Yale Chapter the next morning.

Convention over, the new Chapter left for home, where, on the following Tuesday, May 14, three brothers were initiated.

The years 1891-92 and 1892-93 found us established on a fairly firm basis. Our reputation as a fraternity at the University has extended throughout the City of Baltimore and the alumni of our institution.

The Johns Hopkins Chapter was host to the 107th Convention of Alpha Delta Phi in September, 1939.

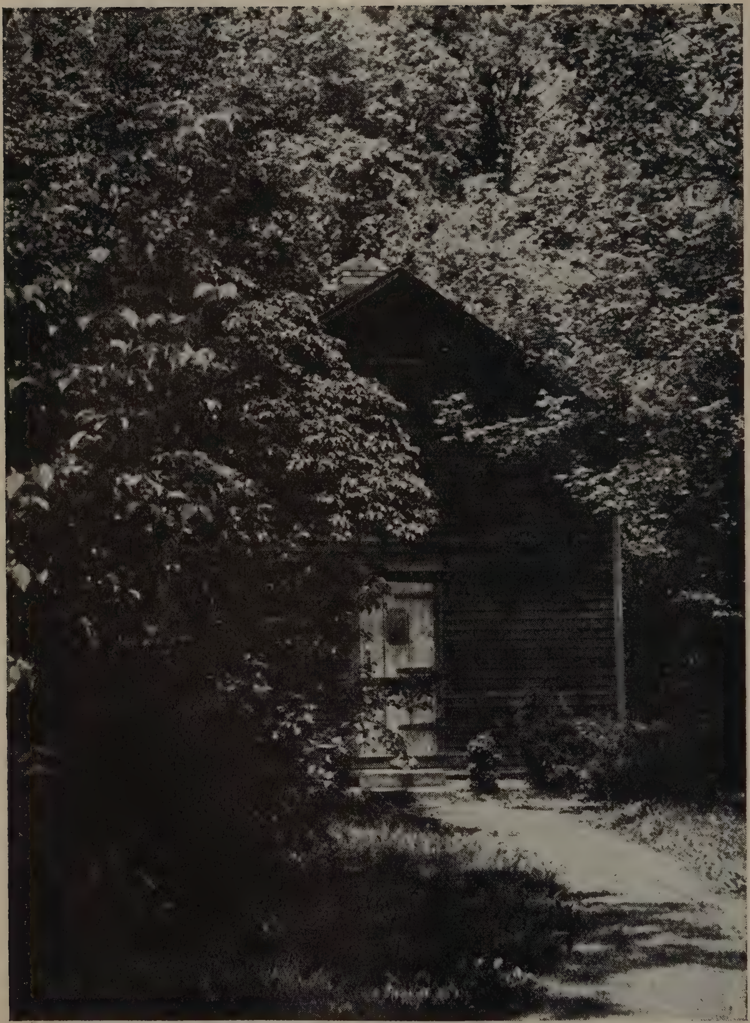
KENYON COLLEGE
KENYON CHAPTER



KENYON

THE KENYON CHAPTER

1858-

"The Kenyon Chapter received its charter in the year 1858. Tradition tells us that we are chiefly indebted to old Yale for this blessing. . . ." This quotation is from the semi-centennial catalogue of 1882 which describes the first meeting of the Chapter, at which time the charter members were initiated by a delegation from Miami. At first, meetings were held in various rooms, but this proving unsatisfactory, the historic Lodge (now the oldest in the country) was built in 1860 and is still in use.

Owing to the tendency toward university growth, the student body at classical Kenyon is small, and as a result the Chapter has never assumed large proportions. Her membership today is much smaller than that of the majority of her sister chapters. But this deficiency in numbers has only served to stimulate her energy, and the years which have passed have witnessed marked improvements. While residential chapter houses have no place in Gambier under the College regulations, the East Wing of "Old Kenyon," set apart for the Chapter's exclusive use, answers the same purpose admirably. The interior of this fine stone dormitory, which was erected in 1828, was later entirely rebuilt, and the Chapter's quarters have been completely furnished and kept in good condition by the alumni. Her other home is the little ivy-covered Lodge "beyond the campus" referred to in Kenyon's favorite song, "When the Evening Shadows Gather."

Along with all other chapters of the Fraternity, Kenyon suffered as a result of World War II, but, unlike most, was in continuous active existence throughout the war. In 1944, the members were forced to give up their quarters to the Army Air Corps group which was stationed at the College, but the Chapter, of an average size of six to eight members, kept up the traditional meetings with regularity. In 1946, the members were again back in historic East Wing.

The progress of the Kenyon Chapter, then, has been neither in the way of numbers nor in outward condition; the active membership is today no larger than that of years ago, and finds no inconvenience in occupying the (modernized) quarters which were held during the Civil War; but the Chapter has made valuable contributions to all the higher walks of life, and her sons, scattered from Paris to Shanghai, have at least made their impression, each on the community in which he has lived. Certain changes in some of her sister chapters are undesired in her environment, but Kenyon has nevertheless made healthy progress and met with abundant and gratifying success in the pursuit of literature, the cultivation of friendship, and the preservation of the Fraternity's fair name.

THE McGILL CHAPTER

The first meeting held in Montreal with the object of forming a provisional society to apply for a charter of Alpha Delta Phi took place on a Sunday afternoon early in 1895. The meeting place was a bedroom in a boarding house on Universty Street. Besides the two whose bedroom it was, there were present four others. Ways and means were discussed and it was agreed to meet every Sunday at one of the homes. Six new members were added. After two or three months a room for meetings was rented in a boarding house in Mansfield Street, and the group assumed the title of the Alpha Epsilon Kappa Fraternity. Later the headquarters of the group moved to two fairly large and comfortable rooms over a shop in St. Catherine Street. There was a steady growth in numbers and solidarity, and prestige was greatly enhanced in university circles by the addition to the list of members of several members of the faculty. By the beginning of 1896 there had developed a strong and active local fraternity.

From the very first the McGill "local" was encouraged by the Toronto Chapter in an effort to obtain a charter. They sent more than one deputation on an errand of inspection and as their requirements were satisfied they used their influence to the utmost on behalf of the petitioners. The McGill Chapter owes a great debt of gratitude to the Toronto Chapter. Deputations also came from the United States. The inspection was nothing if not searching and caused no small amount of perturbation. Finally the petition was granted and the McGill Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi received the charter on May 11, 1897.

One hundred and thirty-three brothers were in service during the Great War. Thirty-nine were wounded, seventeen killed in action or died in service, and sixty-seven received honors and citations. The library of the chapter house is dedicated as a War Memorial, suitably decorated with many pictures of the Brothers who served their King and Country.

In the second World War, one hundred and eighty-three brothers from this Chapter served in the various armed services, both of the Commonwealth and United States. Of those twenty-two brothers were killed in action or died in the service. The Alumni and active brothers of the McGill Chapter are very proud of this service record.

The activities of the Active Chapter during the war years were greatly curtailed and in fact in 1943 there were only four active brothers. Only the generous assistance of the Alumni Organization enabled the house to function as a fraternity.

With the return of the service men in 1945 and 1946 the ranks of the Active Chapter were swelled to sixty-two active brothers, a number far in excess of that desired for the efficient running of the Chapter. Those years were fraught with difficulties but these have been mainly overcome and again the Chapter is assuming its prominent place on the campus and is among the leaders in all branches of college activity. We look forward to the coming years with confidence that the fine reputation established by those who have gone before will be upheld in every way.

MIAMI UNIVERSITY
MIAMI CHAPTER

THE MIAMI CHAPTER

1835-1873

It was through the personal efforts of Samuel Eells that the Miami Chapter was established. It appears from the "Memorial" of the founder of the society, that in February, 1835, he came to Cincinnati to commence the practice of the law. In September, 1836, he delivered his first public address before the Miami Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi at its first anniversary. The Chapter, then, must have been established in the month of September, 1835.

Samuel Eells came to Cincinnati carrying a letter introducing him to Mr. Groesbeck, who had, the year before, been graduated at Miami University, and was then engaged in the study of law in Cincinnati. They immediately became friends. Mr. Eells laid before his new friend his scheme for founding among college students a society which should "be national and universal in its adaptations, so as not merely to cultivate a taste for literature, or furnish the mind with knowledge, but with a true philosophical spirit looking to the entire man, so as to develop his whole being,—moral, social and intellectual." Mr. Groesbeck approved of the plan, and consented to aid Mr. Eells in his undertaking, and was, thereupon, duly initiated, by Mr. Eells, in the law office in which Mr. Groesbeck was at that time studying.

Miami University was at that time the most celebrated institution of learning in the West, and Mr. Groesbeck, having just graduated there, was acquainted with all the students who would probably be available for membership in a society such as Mr. Eells had in view. He suggested certain names to Mr. Eells of those who seemed the most promising of the members of the University, and a correspondence was immediately commenced with them relative to the establishment of the society. This resulted in Charles L. Telford and John B. Temple coming to Cincinnati for initiation into the society, thus laying the foundation of Miami Chapter, which they founded upon their return to Oxford.

Alpha Delta Phi soon became one of the institutions of Miami University, and flourished for a period of thirty-eight years from its establishment. During these years many other societies were instituted, with varying success, some of them becoming rivals of Alpha Delta Phi.

In June, 1873, Miami University was closed to students for an indefinite period, and with it the Miami Chapter ceased to exist. The membership of the Chapter was never large. Five brothers, who between the years 1837 and 1840 received elections while students in the Cincinnati Law School, were, until the publication of the Catalogue of 1860, regarded as a separate Chapter, though no charter was ever issued to them. In 1860 they were arbitrarily assigned to those classes of Miami whose Alpha Delta Phi delegations were smallest.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
PENINSULAR CHAPTER

MICHIGAN

THE PENINSULAR CHAPTER

1846-

On June 12, 1846, William Henry Goodrich, Yale, '43, who was at that time President of the Fraternity, wrote to Rufus Nutting, Hudson, '43, authorizing him to establish a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi at the University of Michigan. Brother Nutting evidently delegated his authority to others, for we learn that on August 5, directly after the conferring of diplomas, Henry Adoniram Swift, Hudson, '42, and Robert Ransom Kellogg, Urban, '35, led a group of seven students to a little office just off the college grounds, where they were duly initiated and Peninsular Chapter of our Fraternity organized.

From 1847 to 1852 the Chapter was engaged in a struggle for existence with the college authorities. As a measure designed to meet the unwillingness of the authorities to consent to the existence of the Chapter in connection with the University, a branch of the Chapter, independent of the College, was established in Ann Arbor. However, in the college year 1845-46, the Faculty passed a rule providing, among other things, that no student could be admitted into a class without first signing a pledge that he would not be a member of any secret society not approved by the Faculty.

An attempt to enforce this regulation in the spring of 1847, under threat of expulsion, was followed by a compromise whereby the Chapter waived its claim to non-connection with the University and acknowledged the rule passed by the Board of Regents which demanded that a secret society's existence depended upon the Faculty's approval, while the Faculty decided that it had no power under the rules to legalize the Fraternity, thus confessing its lack of authority over the Chapter. The compromise did not last long and, following the graduation of the class of '49, the contest was renewed in the expulsion of all members of secret societies. The dispute which followed attracted the attention of the State and the press, and resulted in the reinstatement of the expelled students.

In the spring of 1851 the Faculty went to the extremity of expelling undergraduates and readmitting them only when they agreed to refrain from exercising their fraternity rights until after graduation. Under this procedure the chapter's active membership was reduced to three, but these three were as good as a host by reason of their resolute determination and a decided public sentiment in their favor. The Faculty then demanded the privilege of inspecting the constitution, and the Chapter refused. The struggle finally ended in the full recognition of the Chapter by the Faculty as of legal and regular standing in the University.

In the years that followed the Chapter made steady growth. In 1883 the Chapter moved into the stone building at 566 South State Street, the first fraternity house to be erected at Michigan. This house was occupied continuously until 1910. The present structure stands on the site of the old one, in full view of the Michigan campus.

Although thirteenth in order of founding Peninsular Chapter now ranks as the sixth oldest Chapter in continuous, active existence. This Chapter has been host to four Conventions; the 53rd in 1885, the 64th in 1896, the 89th in 1921 and the 111th-114th in 1946.

During World War II the University of Michigan took over the operation of the house in July 1943 to supplement their Dormitory facilities. The Chapter moved back into the house and resumed its activities in March of 1946.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
MINNESOTA CHAPTER

MINNESOTA

THE MINNESOTA CHAPTER

1892-

In the spring of 1890, a movement was first made by a small group of students at the University to obtain a charter for a chapter of the Fraternity. They presented a petition at its next convention, which was referred to the Johns Hopkins Chapter to investigate and report, but little or nothing was done.

As a result, however, the local alumni residing in Minneapolis and Saint Paul, at the request of this group, took the matter up and made a thorough investigation of all the men who desired to become charter members and selected from their number five (5), who organized themselves as a local society under the name of Alpha Delta Epsilon for the purpose of holding together until a charter could be obtained. At this time William Watts Folwell, Geneva Chapter, 1857, and President of the University of Minnesota, became interested and it was largely through his sponsorship that the Minnesota Chapter was later founded.

A petition was formulated and signed by leading alumni in the Northwest and presented for the consideration of the convention held in Baltimore during May 1891.

On November 24, 1891, the Executive Council ordered the Charter to be issued. Five charter members were initiated at this time under the auspices of the local alumni of the Twin Cities on February 22, 1892. This Chapter had also been endorsed by many of the alumni associations, including those of Omaha, Chicago, Buffalo, and Cleveland, and at the initiation there were present forty-three members representing sixteen different Chapters, whose members resided not only in the Northwest, but also in Omaha, Chicago and New York.

Owing to the fact that most of the leading fraternities had been represented in the University for several years prior to our Chapter's installation and had built up a strong local body of young alumni in the Twin Cities, extra effort has been required to maintain the high standing of Alpha Delta Phi. However, by keeping before it as its watchword "quality and not numbers," the Chapter has been able to maintain its position on the campus.

The Chapter has been fortunate in having its own Chapter House during all but the earlier part of its history. In 1925, the old house was razed and the present fine structure erected on the same ground opposite the campus.

World War II started its drain on the active brothers in 1940. In 1942, when this efflux was at its peak, the house was leased through the University to the Navy. Many fraternities on the campus, finding themselves in similar circumstances, suspended their activities, but not Alpha Delta Phi. In spite of the depleted membership and lack of a meeting place, the Chapter pursued its normal functions during this trying period. Meetings were held in the Union for a time and later a vacated fraternity house was leased.

The post-war reconversion was heralded by the return of the house in 1945 and the gradually growing ranks due to returning veterans. Much credit must be given the men who so well kept alive the spirit, ideals and activities of Alpha Delta Phi on the Minnesota campus during the war, and those veterans, who returned from the war, threw themselves into the job of getting the fraternity speedily back to normal conditions. Thanks to their combined efforts, the Chapter attained top standing on the campus which the intervening and present memberships may proudly say they have maintained.

Two Alumni organizations exist in the Twin Cities for the promotion of Alpha Delta Phi. The one, the Northwest Alumni Association, furnishes an opportunity for the Alumni from all chapters to preserve their connections with the Fraternity. The other, the Minnesota Alumni Association, was established for those primarily interested in the direct and active support of the local chapter.

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY
URBAN CHAPTER

THE URBAN CHAPTER

1835-1839

The Urban Chapter, connected with the University of the City of New York, was established, as were the first five Chapters of the Fraternity, through the efforts of graduate members of the Hamilton Chapter, or undergraduates who had left that college for other institutions; in the case of Urban, Daniel Huntington, Hamilton, '36, who on Christmas Eve, 1835, under power conferred upon him by the Mother Chapter, initiated Arthur Cleveland Coxe, a student in the University, afterwards the distinguished bishop of Western New York. These two then formally established the new Chapter, and others were speedily added to the number. At first the organization was known as the "Red Ribbon," to distinguish its members from the "White Ribbon," of Columbia; but, in 1836, the name "Urban Chapter" was adopted. John Jay and John Henry Hobart were initiated for the purpose of enabling them to found a Chapter in Columbia College, in which they succeeded. Similarly, in accordance with the then existing law, three students in "Nassau Hall College," Princeton, New Jersey, were initiated with the intention of perpetuating the Fraternity in that institution; but this purpose was not carried out for reasons not now known, as all three have died. Urban Chapter also assisted in the establishment of Chapters at Yale, Harvard, and Brown Universities. In 1839 the charter was voluntarily surrendered by the Chapter.

THE NORTHWESTERN CHAPTER

1939-

On October 30, 1939, the Northwestern Chapter was established when the undergraduate members and a number of alumni of the Wranglers Fraternity were initiated into the Alpha Delta Phi.

The Wranglers was founded on May 20, 1903, by a group of eight Northwestern University men who, holding a mutual allegiance to the ideals of high scholarship, Christian manhood, and brotherhood, banded together to form a local fraternity which has perpetuated those ideals to the present day. The name "Wranglers" was chosen to indicate the independence and aggressiveness of the group, and the name has added significance in Cambridge English where it refers to an honors group.

Existing for some time as the only local fraternity among twenty national organizations at Northwestern, the Chapter steadily accumulated a record which placed it high in the estimation of faculty members, other fraternity men, and townspeople. The fraternity was offered a number of opportunities to affiliate with well-known national fraternities, but it was not until 1937 that the active chapter, recognizing the Alpha Delta Phi to be the outstanding fraternity organization, voted to recommend to the Board of Trustees of the alumni corporation that a petition be presented to the Alpha Delta Phi.

This action resulted from the many close friendships which had grown between Wrangler and Alpha Delta Phi alumni in the vicinity and undergraduate members from the nearby chapters at Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Members and officials of the Midwest Association of Alpha Delta Phi were guests of the local society on numerous occasions and became interested in the proposed affiliation. A mutual enthusiasm developed from these friendships and contacts, and the Board of Trustees of the Wranglers Corporation authorized the final petition on July 25, 1938. The Chapter was installed on October 20, 1939, in impressive ceremonies at the First Methodist Church of Evanston.

The Northwestern Chapter now carries on in the best traditions of Alpha Delta Phi and the Wranglers, maintaining its high standing on the campus and the interest of its many loyal alumni. The undergraduate chapter is actively supported by the Wranglers, an Illinois Not for Profit Corporation. Founded in 1916, the corporation includes all alumni and active members. It meets regularly, owns and maintains the fraternity house and each year awards a fellowship to an alumnus of the Chapter who is taking graduate work at the university. The Women's Auxiliary of the Chapter, which was founded in 1933, includes the wives and mothers of the members and holds meetings each month as well as numerous social activities throughout the year. The Auxiliary annually awards a number of partial scholarships and generally contributes to the welfare of the Chapter.

The Northwestern Chapter was proud to be the host of the 115th International Convention of Alpha Delta Phi in 1947.

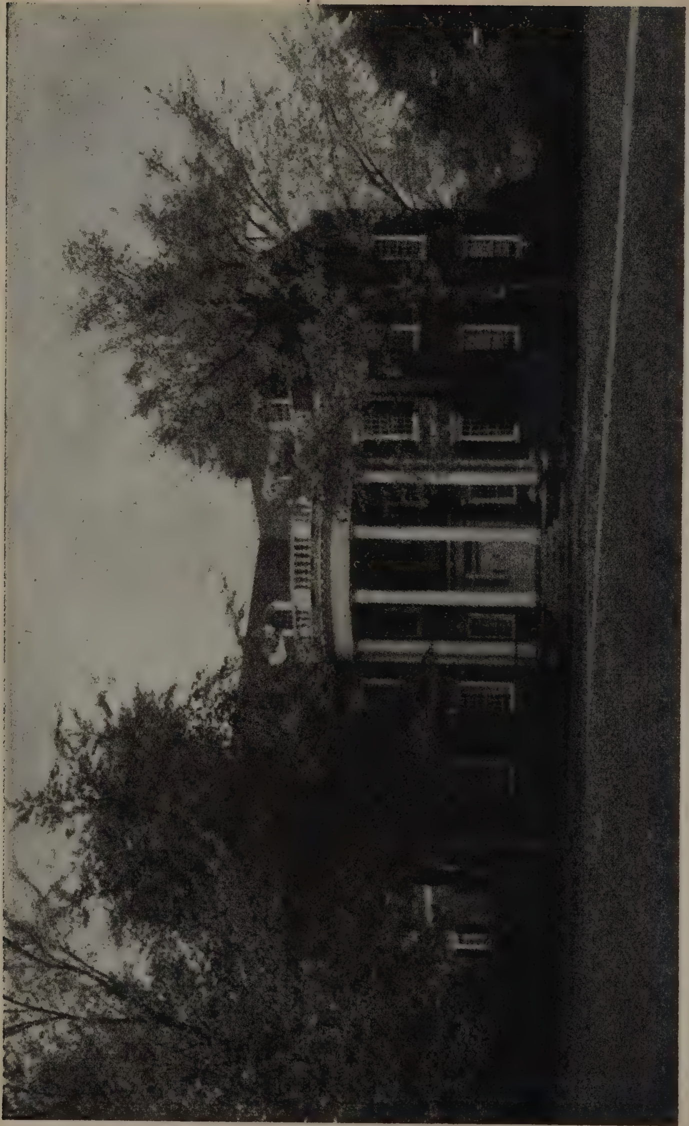
UNIVERSITY OF ROCHESTER
ROCHESTER CHAPTER



ROCHESTER

THE ROCHESTER CHAPTER

1850-

The annals of the Rochester Chapter start with a sleigh ride. On the afternoon of February 18, 1850, eight students of Madison University (now Colgate) crowded into a sleigh and drove twenty miles over the snow to Clinton. At the Clinton House, which appears to have been a hotel in the village, they were initiated into the mysteries of Alpha Delta Phi by the Hamilton Chapter.

The minutes of this meeting are still in the archives at Hamilton and state that these eight men "had the intention of a removal to Rochester and the establishment there of a new Chapter." There is no record of any charter having been granted to this group at Madison, and if meetings were held the minutes have not survived.

When the University of Rochester started almost a year later, in November, 1851, over half of both the faculty and the student body at Madison seceded to Rochester. Two of the Alpha Delts had graduated from Madison the previous June and seven more had been initiated making their number thirteen. These were the charter members of the Rochester Chapter—a group which had the unique distinction of being older than the college in which it functioned.

It was by no means all smooth sailing at the start. The faculty was strongly opposed to the starting of any secret societies in the newly launched college and had in fact passed a resolution condemning them. But Professor Kendrick came to the rescue. While not an Alpha Delt himself he had been a classmate and close friend of Samuel Eells at Hamilton. This was enough. He knew that any brotherhood conceived and established by Brother Eells must be good. Being a man of strong personality and acting President, he made this point. This early opposition and its ultimate defeat with the aid of Professor Kendrick may explain why the first recorded meeting at Rochester was not held in November, 1850, as we might expect, but in September, 1851.

The complete series of minute books recording the Chapter's meetings has been preserved and the first entry in Volume I is dated September 16, 1851. It reports that "the Society met in the basement of the one and only college building, in the janitor's parlor, as no regular place of meeting had been procured." The secretary was instructed to write to the Hamilton Chapter with regard to procuring a charter.

On May 31, 1852, came a letter from Brother Day, President of the Fraternity, containing the welcome news that the charter had been granted. The Chapter was at first called the Empire Chapter, and this name was retained until about 1860, when it was changed to the present name of the Rochester Chapter.

During the first years of its existence, the College being poor and there being comparatively few students, the Chapter suffered many hardships, being reduced at one time to an active membership of three men. As the College became richer and more prosperous the Chapter became stronger in proportion, and now occupies a secure and honorable position among the institutions of the University of Rochester.

THE STANFORD CHAPTER

1916-

In August of the year 1911, on the campus of the young but lusty Stanford University, a group of men united in forming the Cardinal Club for the purpose of eventually petitioning for a Stanford Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi.

Leading the group were three seniors of the class of 1912 who expressed as their objective the development of those qualities of character, scholarship, and literary ability that would be worthy of Alpha Delta Phi.

By the year 1913, the members of the club considered that their organization had shown its caliber and vigor and was in the strategic position to carry its plea for membership to the Alpha Delta Phi. In October, the petition was drawn up. At that time there were twenty-two men in the club, all prominent on the local campus.

Helping with the organization of the club were two members of Alpha Delta Phi, who lived in the house and helped in the general organization of the business of the chapter. The California chapter sent a committee of three men each week to advise and instruct the petitioning body.

Other sponsors were the Pacific Graduate Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, and the three members of Alpha Delta Phi on the faculty of the University.

It was not until 1915, when the Alpha Delta Phi convention was held in San Francisco during the Panama Pacific Exposition that the petition of the Cardinal Club was formally presented to the chapters of Alpha Delta Phi. Many of the delegates to the convention visited the campus at Palo Alto and met individual members of the Cardinal Club. On April 17, 1916, the Cardinal Club first learned that it had been granted a charter. The formal installation of the new Stanford Chapter was held in May at the California Chapter House.

Since its inception, the Chapter has held a leading place among Stanford Greek Letter fraternities. Stanford Alpha Delts have been prominent in student government, publications and athletics.

The fraternity held its 106th Annual Convention under the joint auspices of the Stanford and California Chapters at Del Monte, California, in 1938.

The Chapter was inactive for approximately three years during World War II, the house, along with all other fraternity houses being rented by the University and used as a dormitory unit. The Chapter was reactivated in the fall of 1946 and has resumed its position among the leading fraternities at Stanford.

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
TORONTO CHAPTER

TORONTO

THE TORONTO CHAPTER

1893-

The establishment of the Toronto Chapter was an important event in the history of the Fraternity since it marked its entrance into the international field. This initial move was followed by the establishment of chapters at McGill University, Montreal, in 1897, and at the University of British Columbia in 1926.

The Toronto Chapter was granted to a group which had been formed in April, 1892, for the express purpose of petitioning Alpha Delta Phi. The group was carefully chosen from graduate and undergraduate members of the University and included three prominent members of the faculty. The petition was considered by the convention held in Utica in May, 1892, and the petitioning body was carefully investigated by several delegations that visited Toronto in 1892-93.

Subsequently the charter was granted in May, 1893, and as many as possible of the Provisional Society proceeded to New York to be initiated on June 10 under the auspices of the Columbia Chapter with Brother Clarence A. Seward, President of the Fraternity, presiding.

The new members were accompanied to Toronto by two brothers of the Columbia Chapter and on June the thirteenth the remaining members of the group were initiated. A chapter house was immediately secured, the first to be established at the University, and since then the chapter has enjoyed a successful career. It has been honored by the election of several of its members as officers of the Fraternity. The Toronto Chapter was preceded by only two other fraternities on the campus, Zeta Psi and Kappa Alpha.

During the war of 1914-18, the Toronto Chapter acquitted itself with merit. Over one hundred members were in the service and of these eighteen were killed. In the spring of 1916 a curious situation arose. All the active members of the chapter were on active service, but the Executive Council adopted a resolution to the effect that the members were to be regarded as on leave of absence. Hence the charter was neither suspended nor revoked. The Chapter is grateful to the seven graduates who supervised the resumption of chapter activities in January 1919.

During the recent war over one hundred and fifty members served in the forces. The active chapter, although forced to carry on with greatly reduced members, continued its activities successfully.

Since the war the Chapter has flourished, its active membership standing at thirty-nine in 1948. In this year Brother Colin Gibson, a member of the Toronto Chapter, was elected President of the Fraternity.

The Toronto Chapter has always maintained high scholastic and athletic standards. It will endeavour in the years to come to justify the respect it has acquired on and off the campus.

TRINITY COLLEGE
PHI KAPPA CHAPTER

PHI KAPPA

THE PHI KAPPA CHAPTER

1877-

The Phi Kappa Chapter was established on December 20, 1877, when the undergraduate members of the Phi Kappa Fraternity were initiated into the Alpha Delta Phi in accordance with an agreement signed November 23, 1877.

The Phi Kappa Fraternity was founded October 27, 1835, at Trinity College and was the second secret society established there. During its existence of forty-two years as a local society, it had a great influence in the College.

The first National Fraternity to establish a chapter at Trinity was Delta Psi, which founded its Epsilon Chapter there in 1849 from a group of undergraduates not members of any of the then existing societies.

Through the establishment of the Phi Kappa Chapter, Alpha Delta Phi became the second National Fraternity of the College.

It has always been a source of great pride to the Chapter that the long and honorable history of the old Phi Kappa Fraternity was so signally recognized by Alpha Delta Phi when the new Chapter was formed and allowed to be known as the Phi Kappa Chapter.

Since its establishment the history of the Chapter has been one of continued improvement. The old Phi Kappa Society had possessed a hall in a large building in the city of Hartford, and upon the foundation of the Chapter this hall, with its appurtenances, passed into the hands of Alpha Delta Phi. It was, however, soon deemed necessary to increase these facilities; and, accordingly, a commodious ante-room was obtained and thrown into communication with the hall—both apartments being furnished in a tasteful and suitable manner. From time to time additions were made for the convenience and comfort of the members. In the spring of 1890 ground was broken on a lot facing the College property and the erection of a Chapter house begun. It was purposely designed as a dwelling house with the exception of the lodge room on the third floor, so that it could readily be sold whenever the erection of a larger and more modern house on another site should seem desirable. Since its completion nearly 58 years ago it has proved reasonably adequate and decidedly homelike, its most outstanding characteristic. But the recent rapid growth of the College, and with it the Chapter, has emphasized the need for a new house. With this in view the Trustees have been designating certain unrestricted legacies as a building fund, and it is hoped that before very long the Phi Kappa Chapter will have a new home to help it maintain its high standing in the College and the town, and continue to attract a membership that worthily represents the spirit of Alpha Delta Phi.

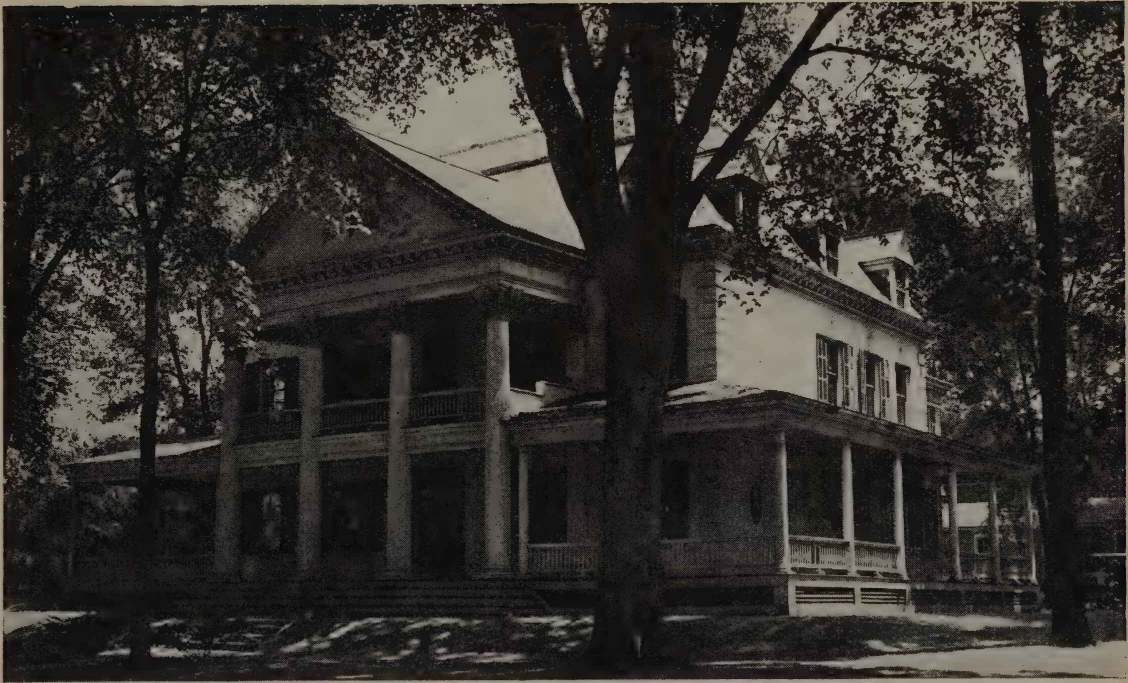
UNION COLLEGE
UNION CHAPTER



UNION

THE UNION CHAPTER

1859-

Union College is world famous as the Mother of fraternities. Therefore, it is natural that the Union Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi had its basic beginning just one year after the founding of our fraternity at Hamilton College. In 1833 the Fraternal Society had an unusual reputation for the moral and intellectual worth of its members.

This Society realized the benefits derived from affiliation with the leading national fraternity. The members believed the aims of principals of Alpha Delta Phi were what they desired. So early in 1859, one tutor and 16 undergraduates signed a petition for a Union Chapter.

On June 14, a charter signed by Richard Salter Storrs, then President of the Fraternity, was granted. Soon after the Chapter was duly instituted. Representatives from nearly all the chapters were present.

The first meeting was held on July 15, 1859. With the establishment of the Chapter, the Fraternal Society ceased to exist at Union College.

For several years rooms near the campus were occupied. In 1892 conditions reached a point where the Chapter needed a home of its own. This vital project was started and carried out by a committee of 15 prominent Union Alpha Delts. Despite all its troubles, the committee's efforts were crowned with success in the summer of 1898. Then the Chapter house was finished and turned over to the active Chapter.

This distinguished example of friendly colonial architecture, with Corinthian pillars and Mansard roof has been the college home for the members ever since. Strategically located on main lane running between the famous Payne gate and the Library, the Union Chapter house was the second fraternity house built on the Union campus.

The erection of the building was made possible by voluntary cash subscriptions. The balance was raised by the issuance of bonds and money borrowed on a promissory note of the trustees. All but four of these bonds were taken by Alpha Delts. Every bond has long since been retired by outright gifts of the holders or through full or partial payment from the treasury of the Union Association of Alpha Delta Phi. This Association owns the house.

Many improvements have been added since the erection of the house. These include a mahogany panelled dining room, one of the most beautiful rooms on the campus, and two mantels in memory of brothers. In 1939, the entire interior of the house was redecorated.

In the early days, the active Chapter numbered between fifteen and twenty. The membership stabilized at around twenty-five, though at times it ran over thirty. During World War I the exodus of brothers to enlist left only four members, who constituted the entire active Chapter. In World War II the Chapter house was rented to the College for use by civilian students. The nature of the speed-up plan of college training, and the rapid turnover of students made it advisable in 1943 to declare the Chapter inactive for the duration of the war. However, it was reactivated in September, 1946, and within one year had a membership of over thirty brothers.

Three Fraternity conventions have been held under the auspices of the Union Chapter. The first in Schenectady in 1863. The second in the Senate Chamber at Albany in 1874. The last in Schenectady in 1909.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON
WASHINGTON CHAPTER

WASHINGTON

THE WASHINGTON CHAPTER

1921-

Alpha Delta Phi at the University of Washington had its inception in 1909 when a group of men living in a college dormitory, becoming dissatisfied with conditions there and feeling a need for closer comradeship, organized themselves into a cooperative boarding club. In the fall of 1910 this organization was named the Kalevala Club by its members, and a constitution was adopted. Finally in the fall of 1911, the organization adopted the name of Theta Chi, and revised the constitution to meet its growing needs; it was this local fraternity, Theta Chi, no relation to the present national fraternity bearing that name, which was eventually granted a charter by the Fraternity.

As early as 1911, the members of Theta Chi adopted as an unwavering objective the securing of a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi, and though charters were offered by various national fraternities during the ensuing years, the local chapter continued its efforts until this objective was achieved. In 1913, Theta Chi presented a petition to the Fraternity, but unfortunately insufficient information as to the proper procedure resulted in a tabling of the petition. In deference to a petitioning group at Stanford University, Theta Chi forestalled action on its petition until after installation of the Stanford chapter. The local fraternity in the interim devoted itself to the improvement of its personnel and its status at the University. It was unusually successful in this, considering the strong competition from the then existing well-entrenched chapters of many national fraternities. In four of the next six years, the local fraternity was first in scholarship and a leader in extracurricular activities. At the termination of World War I, Theta Chi renewed its efforts to have its petition approved by Alpha Delta Phi. Its cause was enthusiastically espoused by the Pacific Northwest Society of the Alpha Delta Phi, by undergraduate students at the University of Washington from other chapters of Alpha Delta Phi, by the University Administration, and by the local chapters of several of the other leading national fraternities. The result was the installation of the Washington Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi on October 29, 1921.

The Chapter since that date has enjoyed continuous growth. It has seen the completion in 1928 of a fine chapter house, underwritten by a prominent Eastern brother, Honorable Henry Warren Austin, Williams 1888, now deceased. It has seen the payment of that loan in accord with its efforts to maintain a sound financial policy. It has been host to the 103rd annual convention of the Fraternity. It has been recognized for years as the outstanding fraternity on the campus in scholarship. It has seen itself recognized as a leader by the local chapters of other fraternities. It has seen itself rise to a position of respect in the eyes of the University Administration and the community. It has seen itself through the vicissitudes of World War II,* in which its chapter house was a Navy training center, and in which period most of its undergraduates finished their schooling and saw military service, resulting consequently in a small post-war membership. Having dedicated itself toward making a strong post-war growth to surpass any of its past achievements, the Chapter is beginning to realize the fulfillment of such plans. Recently it has seen its own twenty-fifth reunion, marking the beginning of its maturity among the other chapters of Alpha Delta Phi.

* Losses of but four brothers.

It has always been the endeavor of the Chapter to be the leading fraternity on the campus, meeting the competition of both the liberal fraternities and the conservative fraternities, in all phases of collegiate activity.

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY
MIDDLETOWN CHAPTER

MIDDLETOWN

THE MIDDLETOWN CHAPTER

1856-

The Middletown Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was the eighteenth in order of establishment, receiving its charter on July 31, 1856, and holding its first regular meeting on Saturday evening, August 2. It sprang from the union of two local societies, the Betrians and the Lebanians. The Betrian Society was organized in 1847, from on older association, the Alpha Psi. The Lebanian Society began in 1854 with four members, adding to its roll eight more names during the first year. Its existence was for a time kept secret; but the excellent influence exerted by it upon its members, stimulating them to increased effort, ultimately led to the discovery of the organization. For about a year after 1855, both the Betrians and Lebanians patronized the Chronometer Eating Club and the gastronomic fellowship established, somewhat neutralized the rivalry.

The Annual Convention of Alpha Delta Phi in 1856 was held in New Haven and separate petitions for charters were presented by representatives of each society. However, until the fact was disclosed at the Convention, neither society knew that the other was considering a petition to Alpha Delta Phi. Their respective supporters in the Fraternity split the Convention and no decision was able to be reached. It soon became evident that, since either party was powerful enough to defeat the other, neither could succeed of itself. At this juncture a union was proposed. This was finally effected. The united societies were initiated into the Fraternity of Alpha Delta Phi at the McDonough House, in Middletown, Connecticut, on the evening of July 31, 1856.

The subsequent history of the Chapter has been, in the greatest measure, what its auspicious birth predicted. In a University where the fraternity life is carried almost to an extreme, with the natural consequence of intense rivalry, Alpha Delta Phi has always been awarded a foremost position. The devotion of undergraduates and alumni have insured to her unvarying success. No fraternity represented at Wesleyan has so enviable a record for the results of the successive fall "cultivation" seasons, because no other can show to the incoming freshman such chapter traditions and such worthy exponents of those traditions. The popularity of her ideals is further shown by the large proportion of her members that are annually called by the student body to fill positions of responsibility and honor.

WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY
HUDSON CHAPTER

WESTERN RESERVE

THE HUDSON CHAPTER

1841-

The Hudson Chapter was founded July 1, 1841, at the Western Reserve College in Hudson, Ohio, by Samuel Eells, the founder of the Fraternity and Joseph Few-Smith, Yale '40, then a tutor at Western Reserve. Mr. Eells was then in the last year of his life, and in failing health; and his coming to Hudson to take the leading part in establishing a Chapter there must have been felt by him to be probably the last service he should be able to render to the Fraternity he loved so well. That the countenance of the Faculty of the College was not lacking is shown by the election to membership of two professors at the second meeting of the Chapter, and of two more shortly after. No secret fraternity had existed at the College before the establishment of the Hudson Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi.

In 1882 the name of the College was changed to "Adelbert College of Western Reserve University," and the College was removed to Cleveland, Ohio. Chapter life in Hudson had been such as is characteristic of a college in a small town where student life centers in and about college dormitories; however, since the removal to Cleveland, both College and Chapter had to adapt themselves to the surroundings of a city as a smaller proportion of the student body resided in the college campus area.

For fifteen years following the removal to Cleveland, the Chapter had its rooms in the Cobb & Bradley block on Euclid Avenue. In 1897, it leased a house on Fairchild Street, near the college grounds. In 1915 the Cleveland Alpha Delta Phi Corporation, with the aid of other members of the Fraternity, purchased a house on Cornell Road. The Chapter remained here until the fall of 1935 when they moved to a house on Mayfield Road, a few blocks from the campus.

The Hudson Chapter became inactive in June, 1943, as World War II called its membership to the colors. Returned from the service the members, with the assistance of the Alumni, reactivated the Chapter in 1947. In 1948 the Alumni organization changed its title to The Hudson Association and purchased the present Chapter House at 1665 East 117th Street for the Hudson Chapter.

The Hudson Chapter is the third oldest chapter of Alpha Delta Phi in point of continuous existence.

WILLIAMS COLLEGE
WILLIAMS CHAPTER

WILLIAMS

THE WILLIAMS CHAPTER

1851-

The Williams Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was an outgrowth of a chapter of Beta Theta Pi which was founded in 1847. At that time there were no chapters of Beta Theta Pi in the East, so the Williams Chapter, in an effort to remedy that situation, founded a chapter in Brown University in 1848. The abandonment of Beta Theta Pi at Brown was a great blow to the Williams Chapter and eventually resulted in the death of the Chapter at Williams. The Williams group then thought of applying for a chapter of Psi Upsilon but a second group at Williams which had in it strong men, had in the meantime applied for a charter of Alpha Delta Phi. Feeling that two new fraternities were too many for Williams, the old Beta Theta Pi group likewise applied for a charter of Alpha Delta Phi.

Thus the two groups combined and a charter was granted July 1, 1851, when twenty-five men were initiated into the Williams Chapter. As there were not enough badges to go around, the first appearance of the initiates did not occur until July 9 at a college meeting when such excitement was caused that the meeting adjourned at once without taking up the matter for which it had been called.

Naturally the Beta Theta Pi fraternity resented the action which its Williams Chapter had taken. The Williams Chapter was declared defunct and it was further stated: "that in view of the recent breach upon our Association we would suggest the propriety of a judicious extension of Beta Theta Pi mainly at the West."

The Williams Chapter initiates were brought into the Fraternity by several members of the Yale Chapter.

For ten years after its founding the Williams Chapter flourished, but in 1862 it nearly went out of existence. It was the advent in 1863 of Francis Lynde Stetson who was instrumental in bringing in such classmates as G. Stanley Hall, Hamilton Wright Mabie, Henry A. Harmon and Charles Sherwood West which brought the Williams Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi into a position of usefulness and power.

The society had had various lodges up to 1865, until, in October, 1869, a permanent home for the Chapter was completed. On the fifth day of November the hall was dedicated to Alpha Delta Phi. In 1880 a handsome porch was erected to the memory of one of the brothers by his family and members of Alpha Delta Phi associated with him in College which remains as part of the present house.

The latter part of July, 1894, a new house was begun, and on March 30, 1895, was occupied for the first time by the Chapter. In 1906 the Lodge was built, and seven years later a library was donated by Howard Eells in loving memory of Samuel Eells. In 1929 a wing was added to the house which now has total accommodations for eighteen brothers exclusive of the alumni dormitory.

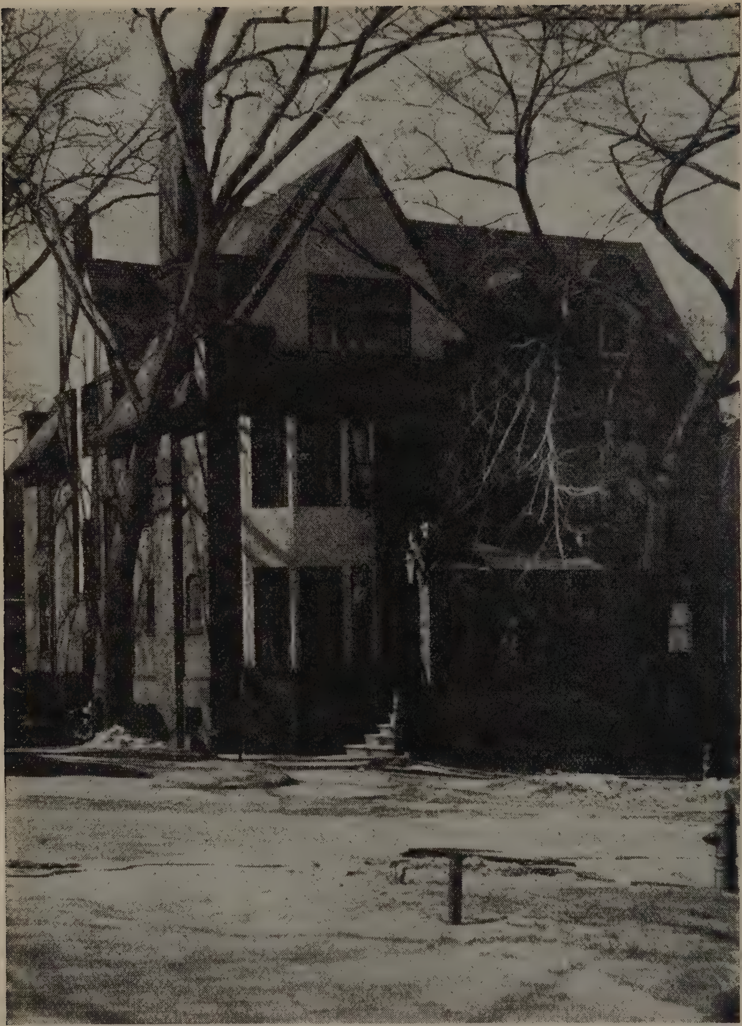
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
WISCONSIN CHAPTER



WISCONSIN

THE WISCONSIN CHAPTER

1902-

Alpha Delta Phi established its Wisconsin Chapter in 1902. It was the thirteenth national fraternity to install a chapter at the University of Wisconsin.

The first attempt to obtain a charter at Wisconsin was made in 1885. At that time a group of six men pledged to one of the then-existing national fraternities became dissatisfied with prevailing conditions and decided to petition Alpha Delta Phi. Upon hearing of the existence of this group, several other national fraternities saw the chance to use it as a nucleus for a Wisconsin Chapter, but the group was interested solely in Alpha Delta Phi. After three years of unsuccessful petitioning, the attempt was given up.

In 1897 seven men founded a local fraternity, Phi Rho Beta, with two definite aims: (1) to promote character, leadership, scholarship, and brotherly feeling in its members, and (2) to found a chapter of Alpha Delta Phi on the Wisconsin campus. At first this effort, too, seemed doomed, However, through the influence of Alpha Delts of the Wisconsin, Chicago, and Michigan faculties, the cause gained ground. Finally in May 1902, at the annual convention of Alpha Delta Phi the petition for a Wisconsin charter was granted.

In recent years the number of men in the chapter has averaged about forty-five. Earlier chapters were smaller, but the growth of the University made it inevitable that delegations should be larger, despite a conservative policy of limiting membership.

The original chapter home was a frame house located on Langdon Street. In 1916 the present chapter house at 640 N. Henry Street, in Madison, was purchased. It has rooming accommodations for twenty-three men. The house is located on the shores of lake Mendota and includes a stone boat house. The memory of this beautiful setting is one which a Wisconsin Alpha Delt never forgets.

For a great many years the chapter has profited from the continued guidance of many loyal Madison brothers who are well known by the members of the active chapter for their deep and sincere interest in the Chapter's welfare. After the end of the last war, returning brothers have all been well received, and all brothers of Wisconsin Alpha Delta Phi are now joined in an effort to maintain a high level of fraternity life and a worthy contribution to the university.

YALE UNIVERSITY
YALE CHAPTER

THE YALE CHAPTER

1836-1873, 1888-1935

The Yale Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was established by members of the Hamilton Chapter. Its charter members were, accordingly, themselves initiates, and its first recognition by the Fraternity in convention assembled antedates by nearly a year the time generally assigned to its foundation, its first meeting having been held before that of Columbia, although the latter received an earlier charter.

The Yale Chapter continued in active existence for thirty-seven years and took an important part in Fraternity government and the shaping of its policy. The Brunonian Chapter was established by a Yale delegation, and the conversion of the local society, Iota Pi Kappa, at Amherst into a Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi was likewise largely due to Yale influence and effort. The first song-book and, with two exceptions, all the catalogues, until 1860, were likewise issued from Yale, while at the second convention, held in New Haven, August 15, 1839, was delivered an address by Samuel Eells, which was the first of those public exercises that have now become a normal part of the annual celebration of most Fraternities.

As a result of most unfortunate complications induced by the political and social conditions of Yale life, this Chapter suspended its activity in the spring of 1873, and voluntarily surrendered its charter at a convention held at Cornell in the same year.

In the spring of 1888, a small but earnest group, having proved the sincerity of their purposes and desires, sought and received a new charter. In the winter of 1893-94, committees from Psi Upsilon and Delta Kappa Epsilon, existing in Yale as Junior societies, met one from Alpha Delta Phi to discuss a plan by which the Yale Chapter should also become a junior society, and the three should amicably coöperate in their choice of future candidates for election. In the winter of 1894-95 the conference was again renewed and the importance of determining the question according to the suggestion there made became so apparent that the Chapter entered into an agreement with the two societies named to adopt the proposed policy, provided the consent of the Fraternity could be obtained at its next convention. At the convention held with the Columbia Chapter in May, 1895, the proposition of the Yale Chapter was approved.

In 1935, after some years of deliberation as to the wisdom of such action, the Yale Chapter voluntarily withdrew from the Fraternity and surrendered its Charter to the Executive Council. The evolution of the intramural college system on the Yale campus, with the consequent segregation of the undergraduates into smaller groups, made the continued existence of junior societies like Alpha Delta Phi extremely difficult. It was with great regret that the remaining chapters of Alpha Delta Phi accepted the inevitable. The Yale Chapter will always be honored for its distinguished contributions to their Alma Mater, to the nation at large, and to Alpha Delta Phi.
